Yankee Stadium, Oct. 10.—The ancient Casey Stengel, with two men out in the ninth and the count 3 and 2 against him, tore off a circuit clout to the delight of 60,000 spectators, and the Giants walked off with the first game of the world series, 5 to 4. The National League champions concentrated their attack in the fourth inning when they drove Hoyt from the mound
and Bush, who succeeded him, held the Giants helpless until the mighty Casey's blow. The Yankees outhit their opponents and Ruth got a three-bagger in four trips to the plate.

Yankee Stadium, Oct. 10.—When
the Bronx factory whistle shrilled
"noon" today the echoes reverberated through the half-filled grand stands of the Yankee stadium baseball's greatest monument, where the two New York teams, Giants of the National League and Yankees of the American league, were gathered to battle for the diamond's greatest prize—the world series.

Two hours before game time the reserve section of the grand stand yawned avidly for the other human beings who shortly were to fill the vast enclosure. Three-fourths of the bleacher seats were occupied by the who lined up in the grandstand for a long-distance view, the mezzanine floor, second deck of the monster stand, was nearly filled, and the third tier had a good share of customers.

While hot-dog and cool drink vendors barked through the stands the fans got into the world series atmosphere, watching Al Black and Al Schacht, the high comedians of the diamond, go through their perennial stunts and a few new ones —including a boxing match in pan-toms.

The crowd was estimated at 60,000.
It was perfect "Indian summer weather" a bright sun that brought out all the colors and defied the playing field and a cool atmosphere that made for snappy playing and a comfortable time watching it. Early customers wore top coats which were shed as the sun advanced but white shirt fronts were not visible and not an elbow was in sight.

DRY AGENT'S HOME BOMBED; FAMILY SAVED

Dynamite Placed Under Residence of Chas. Pearce in Stuebenville, Ohio

BABY IS BRUISED

Stuebenville, Ohio, Oct. 10.—The home of Chas. Pearce, 36th prohibition enforcement officer, at Smithfield, Ohio west of here, was blown up today by dynamite. Pearce, his wife, and baby escaped serious injury.
The crash partially wrecked the city hall which stood nearby, a restaurant, and the home of Mrs.
Mary Merriman and broke windows in numerous residences.
The dynamite placed under the front of Pearce's home wrecked the structure which collapsed inward.
Pearce, his wife and 7-month old baby were thrown into the cellar with the debris. Pearce extricated himself, rescued his baby and with help of neighbors dug his wife out.
The baby was cut and bruised and Mrs. Pearce's back hurt. Mrs. Merriam's home adjoining was so badly wrecked that the aged woman had to be removed by ladders to the second floor. The damage caused is estimated in excess of $50,000. Minors enroute to work claim to have seen four strangers near the Pearce home
and others say they saw an automobile with men passengers leaving shortly before the blast. County authorities are working on the supposition that liquor law violators were responsible.

GOV. M'MASTER IS CANDIDATE

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 10.—Gov. W. H.
McMaster of S. D. today formally announced his candidacy for U. S. senator on the Republican ticket. He said that if elected he intended to align himself with those senators who are making a heroic fight for the people and pledges he will work to the best of his ability "not only to better agriculture but to put it on a plane with other business enterprises."

Herd of Antelope Is Seen In State

Marmarth, Oct. 10.—George Anderson, who lives south of Marmarth, has seen a herd of antelope on several occasions lately. There are twelve animals in the herd, according to Mr. Anderson. Both the state and federal commissions are keeping close tabs on this herd with the idea of preserving them.

Fall Down Stairs Proves Fatal

Minot, Oct. 10.—Anthony Berg, a sawman, died here last week as the result of a fall down stairs into the basement of his home. Mr. Berg was chasing a mouse that had entered through an open door, slipped and when he fell down the stairs struck his head. He never regained consciousness.

GOV. WALTON WOULD QUIT

If Anti-Klan Bill Is Passed
He Will Resign

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 10.— Governor J. C. Walton last night offered to resign to prove his good faith in his fight against the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma if the legislature at its forthcoming special session will enact an anti-klan law which he will submit to the lawmakers.
To all opponents of his administration, whose battle cry has been:
"We want neither klan nor king," the executive issued a statement addressed to the people of Oklahoma, declaring:
"When this bill becomes law, it will rid the state of the Klan and I will resign the office of governor immediately thereupon. In this way, the people will be protected from the Klan and peace and harmony can be restored to the state."
The next move is up to the Klan.
Leaders of a majority of the lower house, already gathered here for the extra session of the legislature Thursday, reported the Governor's offer would not affect their intention to inquire into impeachment charges before proceeding with the proposed anti-klan legislation.
Gov. Walton made his offer in a statement to "the people of Oklahoma." He declared that by doing so he is affording his opponents the opportunity of riding the state of both "Klan and King" for which they have clamored.
"Once the bill becomes a law," he said, "it will rid the state of the Klan and I will resign my office immediately. Peace and harmony can be restored to the state in this way and the people will be protected." Skin of the human palm is 70 times as thick as that of the eyelid.

BOND ELECTION NECESSITY IS TOLD VOTERS

Mayor Lenhart, in Statement
For the City Commission,

MEANS MONEY SAVING

Warrants To Be Replaced By Bonds If Voters
Approve

Voters of the city are asked to cast their ballots in favor of a bond issue of $235,000 for the city water works system on Saturday, October 13. Mayor Lenhart, in a statement today in behalf of the city commission, made the following detailed statement:
"On Saturday, October the thirteenth, you are asked by The City Commission to vote on a bond issue in the sum of $235,000.00 for the purpose of financing the City Owned water system. It seems to me that it is proper at this time that you be told briefly the situation at present in connection with the building and financing, in order that your minds may be clear on the issue before you.
"First, we wish to make it plain that this request for bonds does not mean that the plant is costing the city more than originally estimated.
It had been originally planned to issue improvement warrants to cover the cost of the plant in excess of the original bond issue. We are now asking you to vote bonds in the sum of $235,000.00 in place of this sum warrants. We find that by so doing you will save a very considerable sum.
"Second, we are convinced in a most yearly as the bonds will bring a much better price on the market.
"Our attention has been called to a story being circulated that the bonds were asked for because the plant was exceeding the original estimate. This is not the case. In fact the cost instead of being in excess of the engineer's estimate will be reduced by about $40,000.00. After consultation with the engineers, the Board of Commissioners cut out thirty six blocks of mains in the outlying districts, thereby reducing the cost.

Original Plans

"The original plans and specifications for a complete new system and also for additions to the old system
of The Bismarck Water Supply Company were made by the City Engineer in 1920. Each of these sets of plans included a filtration plant which was a very considerable part of a system of a system in order that pure, safe, wholesome water be furnished at all times. (This will avoid in the future the dirty, unsafe condition of the water which existed all this summer causing sickness, expense and loss of time to the water users of the city).
"After the agreement for the purchase of the old system was entered into with George P. Flannery, of St. Paul (President of the Water Company and Executor to the estate of the late Alexander McKenzie) The Board of City Commissioners, after consulting with the City Engineer and Lewis P. Wolff, consulting engineer, decided to bring in the sixteen inch main from the reservoirs into the city along Avenue C. Instead of Broadway. (This change was also made to keep down the cost.) This work is well under way.
Over a mile has been completed and the balance will be completed this fall. This additional supply main was put in at the demand of the insurance underwriters, for fire pro-
adequate domestic supply with increased pressure to those water users who heretofore have been deprived of a sufficient supply of water.

Work Progressing Rapidly

"The work on the filtration plant is progressing rapidly. The engineering is being completed and the plant should be ready for operation in the spring.
"Great care has been taken in the designing of the plant. Great care in the building of it is being taken.
No effort has been spared to keep
down the cost and at the same time give the city an up to date, first class property in every way. After the plans and specifications had been worked out by the City Engineer, he called to Bismarck, C.
Arthur Brown of Chicago, Mr.
Brown being the foremost filtration engineer in the United States. Mr.
Brown went over the plans carefully, studied conditions here and applied
his skill and knowledge in perfecting the plans for this plant. In addition, Lewis P. Wolff, consulting engineer of St. Paul, an engineer who has designed and constructed more water works systems in the Northwest than any other engineer was called in. In fact Mr. Wolff has made many trips to Bismarck in connection with this plant and is now in close touch with every operation. The services of these men and others named following are being paid for by the City Engineer from the compensation al-

FOREST FIRES RAGING OVER BIG TERRITORY

One Known Dead, Five Towns Are Threatened in Minnesota

MANY SMALL FIRES

National Guard Ordered Out
By Wisconsin Governor

Duluth, Oct. 10.—Hot, dry weather and a stiff southerly breeze today prevailed over the north portions of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan menaced
by forest fires thus further handing the fire fighters. It was indicated in reports received here. Conditions in the parts of Michigan and Wisconsin lying along the south shore of Lake Superior are said to be especially threatening. In northern Minnesota where there is a more effective system of fighting fires the forest forces assert their confidence in maintaining control of the numerous small fires as long as their are no high winds.

St. Paul, Oct. 10.—With one dead, five towns threatened by fire, navigation on the great lakes and business alike, hampered by a pull of heavy smoke, several settlers cabins burned out and thousands of dollars in property lost forest fires raging in the northern part of the three states started their second day of major destruction.

Hundreds of smoldering fires
fanned all yesterday by a west wind united and reached dangerous proportions. Mildred, Minn., 8, who lived in the town near Mohaw, Minn., and was burned to death was the first person reported killed by the flames.

Late last night Gov. Blaine of Wisconsin ordered out the National Guard to fight the fires at Manitowish Falls.
Hundreds of men are backfiring
through heavy brush in an attempt to save the villages Blue Berry, a small Douglas county community and Lake Nebagamon.

The community of Hawthorne also is in jeopardy. Three farms north of Breid have been burned out and all the property destroyed. Ontonagon, Michigan is threatened by fire and in danger. Lumber men estimate 60 square miles have been burned over.
Farmers in that locality and in surrounding communities are moving to open spaces for safety.

Douglas, Ashland, Bayfield, and Iron Wood counties in Wisconsin are dotted with flames. Breathing is described as tortuous and heavy smoke hangs low. Navigation on Lake Superior has become a serious problem, the smoke covering the water more than heavy fog.

AID RUSHED TO INUNDATED FLORIDA TOWN

High Buildings Are Reported Filled With Refugees

Morehaven, Fla., Oct. 10.—More-haven early today remained inundated while the state government was rushing dredging here with the help of a volunteer army in repairing the dyke which had failed to withstand the onslaught of the waves from Lake Oklawaha during the high gale.
A sudden lull in the wind during the night saved the town from a disaster for although gale warnings had been posted the winds had not resumed gale velocity. All high buildings were reported filled with refugees from the lowlands. They reported the entire sections were under water.

STRESEMANN BILL HELD UP

Berlin, Oct. 10.—The Nationalists
and Communists in the Reichstag voting jointly succeeded today in effecting postponement until Thursday of the third reading on Chancellor Stresemann's authorization bill giving him wide authority in the dictation of measures in economic rehabilitation. They hoped to ultimately defeat the measure.
Ches has been the chief pastime of the German village of Stroebeck for more than 800 years.

BIG COMMUNITY SALES DAY TO BE HELD IN BISMARCK MONDAY, OCTOBER 15; MANY BARGAINS

Bismarck merchants will cooperate in a Community Sale to be held here Monday, October 15.

It will be a "Get Acquainted" day for the merchants of the city and thousands of people on the entire Missouri Slope. That is the primary purpose of the day, according to officers of the Bismarck Advertising Club, in charge of the day's activities.

Fifty merchants are cooperating in the sale. Each one will offer two special cost-price bargains for the day. The Bismarck Advertising Club guarantees the offerings.

The sale will start officially at 10 a. m. Monday, so as to give people living quite a distance away time to get in for the opening, so that they will not be left out on the bargains.

There are added features. Twelve merchants of the city are offering special prizes for the best products to be exhibited and judged in their stores. People living in the country may exhibit three kinds of corn—white, yellow and Northwestern dent; eggs, flax, bread, celery, butter, potatoes and pumpkin pie. The articles will be judged and prizes awarded. Later the exhibits that win prizes will be gathered in one big display by the Association of Commerce.

The entire details of the sale and the bargains offered

Legion Party Gets Surprise

yesterday afternoon enjoyed a real surprise, said to E. Anderson, who sided with his auto in showing visitors the city.
"They expected to run into frost
and near winter," he said. "Instead they saw flowers blooming as they
well pleased."

DAILY PAPER PLAN TOLD TO LEAGUE GROUP

Senator Frazier Explains Results of Campaign and Asks Decision

Senator Lynn J. Frazier, explaining to a group of Nonpartisans during a state convention interim today the results of his campaign several months ago to establish a Nonpartisan state daily newspaper, said that
hand and deposited in a bank at Hoople, North Dakota, his home.
This represented subscriptions of 570 people, he said.

Senator Frazier said $4,291.60 had
been paid in, some money returned,
some money spent on organization
work, and that there were 596 subscribers originally, of which 28 required for various reasons.

The senator said there was need
of a state daily newspaper to give Nonpartisans the news, and that it was before the legislature here to decide whether to return the money already collected or go ahead in an endeavor to establish the daily at this time. It was decided to thrash out the proposition during the day and present some concrete statement to the convention.

The conference decided to recommend to the convention that a weekly paper be established, and that plans for a daily be abandoned at this time.

NEGROES, ORDERED OUT

Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Oct. 10.—Every negro was ordered last night to leave Pittsburgh limit by a self-appointed vigilance committee of 200 men, according to authorities. There are about 300 negroes in the district.
The action is said by the police to be the result of the killing Saturday of 75-year-old Thomas Holland, the wounding of his 11-year-old granddaughter, Edith Coulter, by a negro who escaped.

L. R. Baird of Dickinson, named general receiver of closed banks in North Dakota, today established his office in the Bank of North Dakota building here. Mr. Baird said that he expected later to confer on the general banking situation with former Governor L. B. Hanna of Fargo.
Most popular song in the world is said to be "The Rosary."

TOWNLEY "NOT INTERESTED" SAYS FRIEND

Former League Head Declared Hard at Work on Producers National Alliance

NAME CHANGE UP

The Nonpartisan League convention, which convened here this morning, was without the presence of A.
C. Townley.

The former national league head
"has no interest in the affair," according to one man close to him. Unless Mr. Townley sprang a surprise and appeared on the scene, it was to be taken for granted by many who have been in political battle with him that it is true that he has no interest in the gathering.
Mr. Townley is said to be in Nebraska, still active in an organization through which it is proposed farmers would fix the price of their products. Senator Magnus Johnson of Minnesota recently endorsed the idea. One friend of Mr. Townley declared that he was satisfied with the progress he was making.

Not Interested, He Says.
William Lemke, former attorney general and member of the executive committee of the National Non-partisan League, milled around in the hotel lobby last night, but asserted that had he not been called here on business in the supreme court he would not be in the city.
He asserted that any action by the convention was without effect as to him, and declared he was a free lance and glad of it.

It was like a pre-gathering of the legislature last night as Nonparti-sans drifted in from all parts of the state. Most of the leaders in the legislature came in and it appeared that the convention would have in
it the strongest men in the league.
A. A. Liederbach, former state chairman, was here from Dunn county.
Among those present were Senators B. F. Baker, Mikeltrem, Ingerson, Olson, Benson, Chairman W. J. Churn, Roy Frazier, Republican state chairman, F. W. Cathro, of Bottineau; N. S. Davies, Fargo. John Andrews was "diving" in from Fargo.

Senator Lynn J. Frazier met numerous friends in the hotel lobby.

Questions Before Body.
As time for convention approached there were to be no slightly drawn questions over which to stage a fight.
Chairman Church said the questions
to be taken up, in order, were:
Whether to establish a state daily newspaper, and generally there appeared to be opposition to this; designating an official state paper, and three had been mentioned—the Farmer-Labor Record of Bismarck, the present official Nonpartisan Leader,
and John Andrews' "The Progressive"; whether to dissolve all relations with the National Nonpartisan League, and since the national organization is not functioning and is not furnishing the National Leader for the 50 cents yearly dues allotted to the national organization it is not receiving the money, and this question was declared moot by Chairman Church; fourth, whether to change the name Nonpartisan League, and
there appeared to be plenty of room for discussion on this subject.

Changing Name.
The question of changing the name of the Nonpartisan League was certain to go before the convention.
Resolutions had been adopted in Griggs county, to be read before the convention, containing a proposal for calling a new state convention of all

CONVENTION OPENED WITH CHURCH'S PLEA

Chairman of Convention Says That Purpose Is to Get Ready for Campaign

"INSURGENTS" HERE

Ought to Remove "Bosses" From the League; Name Change Question Up

The position of the "insurgents" in the Nonpartisan league state convention here this afternoon, according to one leader,
will be:

The Nonpartisan league cannot win carrying the load of bad feeling toward the past. They must be responsible for the league's defeat must not stop out but must be repudiated. A resolution will be presented declaring this, demanding all relations with the national organization cease
and that the national leaders,
and those associated with them,
be repudiated. This means A. C.
Townley, formerly national head, William Lemke and F. E. Wood, members of the national executive committee.

This position was taken in a "caucus" by "insurgents" it was said.

A plea for harmony opened the special state convention of the Non-partisan League, called into order here today by Chairman W. J.
Church of York. More than 200 delegates and other Nonpartisans were in Patterson hall here when the convention assembled, shortly before 11 o'clock.

Declaring that he believed "the fruit is ripe for picking in the next campaign," the state chairman asserted that the big business of the convention ought to be the healing of the wounds caused by internal dis-sen- sion. J. C. Miller of Bismarck, elected temporary chairman, followed the harmony program in naming the credentials committee, announcing that he intended to divide appointments between "the two factions here."

Aside from the airing of differences which have arisen among leaguers, particularly with respect to A. C. Townley, William Lemke and the state committee, interest appeared to center upon a method by which the league could organize for the next campaign. Resolutions adopted by the Griggs and Burleigh county conventions asked for a new convention next February to unite progressive proposals. Interpretations on the resolutions differed as to whether the intent should be an abandonment of the name Nonpartisan League and the formation of a new party to which all "Progressives" would be invited, or simply a reorganization all down the line under the same or another name.

Four Questions Up.
Four questions were set before the convention by the state committee's call—whether to establish a daily paper, naming of official newspaper organ, relations with the National Nonpartisan League and whether to change the name of the organization.

This convention was called by your chairman on the advice of members at large, to thresh out difficulties and get in shape for the next campaign," said Chairman Church.
"While there arose some differences as to the method by which the state committee apportioned delegates, I want to say that if there was a mistake it was one of judgment and not
of the heart."

"We are here for only one purpose
—to get in shape for the campaign next year, for reelection, not dissolution of the league ranks. I believe the fruit is ripe for picking in the next campaign."

Chairman Church asked members
to leave abuse, desire to retaliate or vindictiveness out of their discussions.

A move, apparently supported by
"insurgents" was made to elect a temporary chairman by secret ballot but this was voted down after discussion and Representative Miller
named chairman by acclamation.
Representative Frank Vogel of Mc-Lean county was named temporary secretary.

Chairman Miller appointed Senator Ralph Ingerson, C. P. Peterson and J. A. Gray as members of the credentials committee, and then removed Mr. Peterson and named Walter Welford of Pembina county. In doing so he said it intended to re-divide the membership among factions and that it appeared he had named members almost entirely of one faction. The committee was left with two "insurgents" and one "negro."

It appeared that the convention
would not reach actual business before afternoon.

Chairman Church before the convention, declared that 90 per cent of the delegates named were negatives to the previous Fargo convention, except for restorations of inability to serve, and declared this was sufficient answer to the criticism of "insurgents" that the state com-

ancient Casey Stengel, with two
men out in the ninth, and the
off a circuit clout to the de-
light of 60,000 spectators and
the Giants walked off with the first game of the world series, 5 to 4. The National League
champions concentrated their attack in the fourth inning when they drove Hoyt from the mound
and Bush, who succeeded him,
held the Giants helpless until the mighty Casey blew. The Yankees outhit their opponents

Yankee Stadium, Oct. 10.—When
the Bronx factory whistle shrilled
"noon" today the echoes reverberated through the half-filled grand stands of the Yankee stadium, baseball's greatest monument, where the two New York teams, Giants of the National League and Yankees of the America, were gathered to battle for the diamond's greatest prize—the
world series.

reserve section of the grand stand yawned avidly for the other humans who shortly were to fill the vast enclosure. Three-fourths of the bleach-er seats were occupied by those who eared to line up and scramble for a long-distance view, the mezzanine level, second deck of the monster stand, was nearly filled, and the third tier had a good share of dis-tancers.

While hot-dog and cool drink vendors barked through the stands the
fans got into the world series atmosphere, watching "Nick" Altrock and Al Schacht, the high comedians of the diamond, go through their perennial stunts and a few new ones
—including a boxing match in pan-talone.

The crowd was estimated at 60,000.
It was perfect "Indian summer weather" a bright sun that brought out all the colors and dried the playing field and a cool atmosphere that
made for snappy playing and a com-
customers wore top coats which were
shed as the sun advanced but white
shirt fronts were not visible and not

First Inning Giants—Bancroft flied out to Ruth. Groh singled into center.
Frisch forced Groh. Frisch was out, Schang to Ward. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning Giants—Dugan threw out Young at first. Meusel fouled out to Pipp.
Ruth made a nice catch of Stengel's fly. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Third Inning
Giants—Kelley singled into center field. Gowdy got a base on balls. Mc-Guire ran for Gowdy. Bentley up.
Bentley singled into center. Kelley going to third and the bases were filled. Gearn ran for Bentley. Kelley scored when Bancroft forced Gearn.
Scott to Ward. McGuire went to third.
Bancroft stole second. McGuire and Bancroft scored on Groh's three-base hit to right. Bush went into the box for the Yankees. Groh scored on Frisch's single to right. Young forced Frisch. Scott to Ward. Young was out stealing. Schang to Scott.
Four runs, four hits, no errors.

Yanks—Ryan went into the box for the Giants and Snyder caught. Ruth flied out to Meusel. Meusel sent a high fly to Stengel. Ward fanned.
No runs, one hit, no errors.

Dynamite Placed Under Residence of Chas. Pearce in Steubenville, Ohio

Steubenville, Ohio, Oct. 10.—The home of Chas. Pearce, 36th prohibition enforcement officer, at Smithfield, Ohio west of here, was blown up to-
day by dynamite. Pearce, his wife,
and baby escaped serious injury.
Pearce, his wife and 7-month old
baby were thrown into the cellar wrecked the house. Pearce extricated himself, rescued his baby and with
help of neighbors dug his wife out.
The baby was cut and bruised and Mrs. Pearce's back hurt. Mrs. Merriamman, who adjoining was badly wrecked, the aged woman had to be removed by ladders to the second floor. The damage caused is estimated in excess of $20,000. Miners enroute to work claim to have seen
four strangers near the Pearce home
and others say they saw an automobile with even passengers leaving shortly before the blast. County authorities are working on the supposition that liquor law violators were responsible.

GOV. M'MASTER IS CANDIDATE

Pietre, S. D., Oct. 10.—Gov. W. H.
McMaster of S. D., today formally announced his candidacy for U. S. senator on the Republican ticket. He
who are making a heroic fight for
to the best of his ability "not only to
plane with other business enterprises."

Herd of Antelope Is Seen In State

Marmarth, Oct. 10.—George Anderson, who lives south of Marmarth,
has seen a herd of antelope on several occasions lately. There are twelve animals in the herd, according to Mr. Anderson. Both the state and federal commissions are keeping
of preserving them.

Fall Down Stairs Proves Fatal

Minot, Oct. 10.—Anthon Berg, a salesman, died here last week as the result of a fall down stairs into the basement of his home. Mr.
Berg was chasing a mouse that had entered through an open door, slipped and when he fell down the stairs
consciousness.

If Anti-Klan Bill Is Passed
He Will Resign

Governor J. C. Walton last night
offered to resign to prove his good
faith in his fight against the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma if the legislature at its forthcoming special session will enact an anti-klan law
which he will submit to the lawmakers.
To all opponents of his administration, whose battle cry has been:
"We want neither klan nor king," the executive issued a statement dressed to the people of Oklahoma,
declaring:
"When this bill becomes law, it will rid the state of the klan and I will resign the office of governor immediately thereupon. In this way, the

Oklahoma City, Oct. 10.—Governor J. C. Walton, after nine months in the chief executive's chair, today stood ready to abdicate in order to bring to a close his war on the Ku Klux Klan. Claiming the whole of spectacular maneuvers and counter-maneuvers between opposing forces in the tumultuous factional battle which has been waged during the months the Governor offered to compromise with members of the legislature bent on impeaching him.
"Now we will see who is sincere," declared Aldrich Blake, the executive's counselor, in making public the Governor's terms.
"The next move is up to the Klan."
house, already gathered here for a special session of the legislature Thursday, reported the Governor's
offer would not affect their inten-
charges before proceeding with the
proposed anti-klan legislation.

Gov. Walton made his offer in a statement to "the people of Oklahoma." He declared that by doing so
opportunity of ridding the state of both "Klan and King" for which they
have clamored.
"Once the bill becomes a law," he said, "it will rid the state of the Klan and I will resign my office im-
restored to the state in this way and
the people will be protected."

BOND ELECTION NECESSITY IS TOLD VOTERS

Approve

Voters of the city are asked to
cast their ballots in favor of a bond issue of $235,000 for the city water
works system on Saturday, October 13. Mayor Lenhart, in a statement today in behalf of the city commission, made the following detailed
statement:

"On Saturday, October the thirteenth, you are asked by the City Commission to vote on a bond issue in the sum of $235,000.00 for the purpose of financing the City Owned water system. It seems to me that it is proper at this time that you be
told briefly the situation at present
in connection with the building and
financing, in order that your minds may be clear on the issue before us.

"First, we wish to make it plain
that this request for bonds does not
city more than originally estimated.
It had been originally planned to issue improvement warrants to cover the cost of the plant in excess of the original bond issue. We are now asking you to vote bonds in the sum
of $235,000.00 in place of this sum warrant. We find that by so doing you will save a very considerable sum
yearly, as the bonds will bring a much better price on the market.

a story being circulated that the bonds were asked for because the
plant was exceeding the original estimate. This is not the case. In fact
the cost instead of being in excess
of the engineer's estimate will be reduced by about $40,000.00. After consultation with the engineers the Board of City Commissioners cut out thirty six blocks of mains in the outlying districts, thereby reducing
the cost.

Original Plans
The original plans and specifications for a complete new system and
of the Bismarck Water Supply Company were made by the City En-
of plans included a filtration plant which we are convinced is a most necessary part of a system in order that pure, safe, wholesome water be
avoid in the future the dirty, unsafe
condition of the water which existed
all this summer causing sickness, expense and loss of time to the water
users of the city.)

"After the agreement for the purchase of the old system was entered into with George P. Flannery, of
St. Paul (President of the Water Company and Executor to the estate of the late Alexander McKenzie) the Board of City Commissioners, after consulting with the City Engineer and Lewis P. Wolff, consulting engineer, decided to bring in the
sixteen inch main from the reservoirs
into the city along Avenue C. instead of Broadway. (This change
was also made to keep down the
cost.) This work is well under way.
Over a mile has been completed and
the balance will be completed this
fall. This additional supply main
was put in at the demand of the insurance underwriters, for fire pro-
adequate domestic supply with increased pressure to those water users who heretofore have been deprived of sufficient supply of water.

Work Progressing Rapidly
"The work on the filtration plant
is progressing rapidly. The engine is ready to be shipped and the plant should be ready for operation in the spring.

"Great care has been taken in the
in the building of it is being taken.
No effort has been spared to keep
down the cost and at the same time
give the city an up to date, first class property in every way. After
the plans and specifications had
been worked out by the City Engineer, he called to Bismarck, C.
Arthur Brown, of Chicago, Mr.
Brown being the foremost filtration
engineer in the United States. Mr.
Brown went over the plans carefully,
studied conditions here and applied
his skill and knowledge in perfecting
the plans for this plant. In addition,
Lewis P. Wolff, consulting engineer of St. Paul, an engineer who has
works systems in the Northwest than any other engineer was called in. In fact Mr. Wolff has made many trips
to Bismarck in connection with this
plant and is now in close touch with every operation. The services of these men and others named following are being paid for by the City Engineer from the compensation allowed him by the city.

"In addition to the above experts, the City Engineer called in Mr. E.

FOREST FIRES RAGING OVER BIG TERRITORY

One Known Dead, Five Towns

National Guard Ordered Out
By Wisconsin Governor

Duluth, Oct. 10.—Hot, dry
weather and a stiff southerly
breeze today prevailed over the
north portions of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan menaced
by forest fires thus further handicapping the fire fighters, it was indicated in reports received here. Conditions in the parts of Michigan and Wisconsin lying
along the south shore of Lake Superior are said to be especially threatening. In northern Minnesota where there is a more effective system of fighting
fires the forest forces assert
their confidence in maintaining
control of the numerous small fires as long as their are no
high winds.

St. Paul, Oct. 10.—With one dead, five towns threatened by fire, navigation on the great lakes and bus-service alike hampered by a pall of heavy smoke, several settlers cabins
burned out and thousands of dollars in property loss forest fires raging
in the northern part of the three states started their second day of major destruction.

Hundreds of smoldering fires
fanned all yesterday by a west wind
united and reached dangerous proportions. Mildred Koive, 3, who wandered into the wood near Mohaw, Mich., and was burned to death was the first person reported killed by the flames.

Late last night Gov. Blaine of Wisconsin ordered out the Superior units to fight the fires at Manitow Falls.
Hundreds of men are backfiring
through heavy brush in an attempt
to save the villages Blue Berry, a small Douglas county community and Lake Nebagamon.

The community of Hawthorne also
is in jeopardy. Three farms north of Broule have been burned out and all cattle destroyed. Ontonagon, Michigan is threatened by fire and the town of Green, 6 miles from there is in danger. Lumber men estimate 60
square miles have been burned over.
Farmers in that locality and in surrounding communities are moving to open spaces for safety.

Douglas, Ashland, Bayfield, and Iron Wood counties in Wisconsin are dotted with flames. Breathing is described as tortuous and heavy smoke drifts low. Navigation on Lake Superior has become a serious problem,
the smoke covering the water more
than heavy fog.

High Buildings Are Reported Filled With Refugees

Morehaven, Fla., Oct. 10.—More-haven early today remained inundated while the state government was rushing dredging here with the help
of a volunteer army in repairing the dyke which had failed to withstand
the onslaught of the waves from Lake Okechobee during the high gale.
A sudden lull in the wind during the night saved the town from further disaster for although gale warnings had been posted the winds had
buildings were reported filled with
refugees from the lowlands. They reported the entire sections were under water.

STRESEMANN BILL HELD UP

Berlin, Oct. 10.—The Nationalists
and Communists in the Reichstag voting jointly succeeded today in effecting postponement until Thursday of the third reading on Chancellor Stresemann's authorization
bill giving him wide authority in the dictation of measures in economic rehabilitation. They hoped to ultimately defeat the measure.

Chess has been the chief pastime of the German village of Stroebeck

BIG COMMUNITY SALES DAY TO BE HELD IN BISMARCK MONDAY, OCTOBER 15; MANY BARGAINS

Bismarck merchants will cooperate in a Community Sale
to be held here Monday, October 15.

It will be a "Get Acquainted" day for the merchants of the city and thousands of people on the entire Missouri Slope. That is the primary purpose of the day, according to officers of the Bismarck Advertising Club, in charge of the day's activities.

Fifty merchants are cooperating in the sale. Each one will offer two special cost-price bargains for the day. The Bismarck Advertising Club guarantees the offerings.

The sale will start officially at 10 a. m. Monday, so as to give people living quite a distance away time to get in for the opening, so that they will not be left out on the bargains.

There are added features. Twelve merchants of the city are offering special prizes for the best products to be exhibited and judged in their stores. People living in the country may exhibit three kinds of corn—white, yellow and Northwestern dent; eggs, flax, bread, celery, butter, potatoes
and pumpkin pie. The articles will be judged and prizes awarded. Later the exhibits that win prizes will be gathered in one big display by the Association of Commerce.

The entire details of the sale and the bargains offered
will be told in advertisements to be published this week.

Legion Party Gets Surprise

yesterday afternoon enjoyed a real surprise, said O. E. Anderson, who aided with his auto in showing visitors the city.

"They expected to run into frost
and near winter," he said. "Instead
they saw flowers blooming as they
well pleased."

DAILY PAPER PLAN TOLD TO LEAGUE GROUP

Senator Frazier Explains Results of Campaign and Asks Decision

Senator Lynn J. Frazier, explaining to a group of Nonpartisans deciding to hold a convention interim today
the results of his campaign several months ago to establish a Nonpartisan state daily newspaper, said that
hand and deposited in a bank at Hoople, North Dakota, his home.
This represented subscriptions of 570 people, he said.

Senator Frazier said $4,291.60 had
been paid in, some money returned,
some money spent on organization
work, and that there were 596 subscribers originally, of which 26 refused for various reasons.
The senator said there was need
of a state daily newspaper to give Nonpartisans the news, and that it
was before the legislature here to decide whether to return the money already collected or go ahead in an endeavor to establish a daily at this time. It was decided to thrash
out the proposition during the day
and present some concrete statement
to the convention.

The conference decided to recommend to the convention that a weekly paper be established, and that plans for a daily be abandoned at this time.

NEGROES, ORDERED OUT

Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Oct. 10.—Every negro was ordered last night to leave Stove township, just west of the Pittsburgh limit by a self-appointed vigilance committee of 200 men, according to authorities. There are about 300 negroes in the district.
The action is said by the police to
be the result of the killing Saturday of 73-year-old Thos. Rolland, the wounding of his 11-year-old granddaughter, Edith Coulter, by a negro
who escaped.

L. R. Baird of Dickinson, named general receiver of closed banks in North Dakota, today established his office in the Bank of North Dakota
building here. Mr. Baird said that he expected later to confer on the general banking situation with former Governor L. B. Hanna of Fargo.

Most popular song in the world is
said to be "The Rosary."

Hard at Work on Producers National Alliance

The Nonpartisan League convention, which convened here this morning, was without the presence of A.
C. Townley.

The former national league head
"has no interest in the affair," according to one man close to him. Unless Mr. Townley sprang a surprise
and appeared on the scene, it was
to be taken for granted by many who have been in political battle with
him that it is true that he has no interest in the gathering.

Mr. Townley is said to be in Nebraska, still active in his Producers National Alliance, an organization through which it is proposed
products. Senator Magnus Johnson
of Minnesota recently endorsed the idea. One friend of Mr. Townley declared that he was satisfied with the progress he was making.

Not Interested, He Says.
William Lemke, former attorney
general and member of the executive committee of the National Non-partisan League, milled around in the hotel lobby last night, but asserted that he had not been called here on business in the supreme court he would not be in the city.
He asserted that any action by the convention was without effect as to
him, and declared he was a free
lance and glad of it.

It was like a pre-gathering of the legislature last night as Nonparti-sians drifted in from all parts of the state. Most of the leaders in the legislature came in and it appeared that the convention would have in
it the strongest men in the league.
A. A. Liederbach, former state chairman, was here from Dunn county.
Among those present were Senators B. F. Baker, Micklethun, Ingerson, Olson, Benson, Chairman W. J. Church, Roy Frazier, Republican state chairman; F. W. Cathro, of Bemis; W.
N. Davies, Fargo. John Andrews was "diverging" in from Fargo.

Senator Lynn J. Frazier met
numerous friends in the hotel lobby.

Questions Before Body.
As time for convention approached there were to be no tightly drawn questions over which to stage a fight.
Chairman Church said the questions
to be taken up, in order, were:
Whether to establish a state daily
newspaper, and generally there appeared to be opposition to this; designing an official state paper, and three had been mentioned—the Farmer-Labor Record of Bismarck, the
present official Nonpartisan leader,
and John Andrews' "The Progressive"; whether to dissolve all relations with the National Nonpartisan League, and since the national organization is not functioning and is not furnishing the National Leader
for the 50 cents yearly dues allotted
to the national organization; it is not receiving the money, and this question was declared moot by Chairman Church; fourth, whether to change
the name Nonpartisan League, and
there appeared to be plenty of room
for discussion on this subject.

Changing Name.
The question of changing the name of the Nonpartisan League was
certain to go before the convention.
Resolutions had been adopted in Griggs county, to be read before the convention, containing a proposal for
calling a new state convention of all

"INSURGENTS" HERE Ought to Remove "Bosses" From the League; Name Change Question Up

The position of the "insurgents" in the Nonpartisan league
state convention here this afternoon, according to one leader,
will be:

The Nonpartisan league cannot win carrying the lead of had leadership of the past. Therefore, those responsible for the league's defeat must not step out but must be repudiated. A resolution will be presented declaring this, demanding all relations with
the national organization cease
and that the national leaders,
and those associated with them,
be repudiated. This means A. C.
Townley, formerly national head;
William Lemke and F. B. Wood, members of the national executive committee.

This position was taken in a "caucus" by "insurgents," it was added.

A plea for harmony opened the special state convention of the Non-partisan League, called into order
here today by Chairman W. J.
Church of York. More than 200 delegates and other Nonpartisans were in Patterson hall here when the convention assembled, shortly before 11 o'clock.

Declaring that he believed "the fruit is ripe for picking in the nexcampaign," the state chairman asserted that the big business of the convention ought to be the healing of the wounds caused by internal dis-ension. J. C. Miller of Bottineau, elected temporary chairman, followed the harmony program in naming
the credentials committee, announcing that he intended to divide appointments between "the two factions here."

Aside from the airing of differences which have arisen among
to A. C. Townley, William Lemke
and the state committee, interest appeared to center upon a method by which the league could organize for
the next campaign. Resolutions adopted by the Griggs and Burleigh
county conventions asked for a new convention next February to unite
progressive proposals. Interpretations on the resolutions differed as
to whether the intent should be an
abandonment of the name Nonpartisan League and the formation of a new party to which all "Progressives" should be invited, or simply a reorganization all down the line under the same or another name.

Four Questions Up.
Four questions were set before the convention by the state committee's call—whether to establish a daily paper, naming of official newspaper organ, relations with the National Nonpartisan League and whether to change the name of the organization.

"This convention was called by
your chairman on the advice of members at large, to thresh out difficulties and get in shape for the next campaign," said Chairman Church.
"While there are some differences
as to the method by which the state committee apportioned delegates, I want to say that if there was a mistake it was one of judgment and not
of the heart."

"We are here for only one purpose
—to get in shape for the campaign next year, for unification not destruction of the league ranks. I believe the fruit is ripe for picking in
the next campaign."

Chairman Church asked members
to leave abuse, desire to retaliate
or vindictiveness out of their discussions.

A move, apparently supported by
"insurgents" was made to elect a temporary chairman by secret ballot but this was voted down after discussion and Representative Miller
named chairman by acclamation.

Representative Frank Vogel of Mc-Lean county was named temporary
secretary.

Chairman Miller appointed Senator Ralph Ingerson, C. F. Peterson and J. A. Gray as members of the credentials committee, and then removed Mr. Peterson and named Walter Wellford of Pembina county. In doing so he said he intended to divide the membership among factions and that it appeared he had named members almost entirely of one faction. The committee was left with two "insurgents" and one "regular."

It appeared that the convention
would not reach actual business before afternoon.

Chairman Church, before the convention, declared that 90 per cent of the delegates named were delegates to the previous Fargo campaign, except for resolutions or inability to serve, and declaring this was sufficient answer to criticisms of "insurgents" that the state com-

He was placed in a cell with five others whose appearance he did not appreciate, he says. He further charges that his desire to communicate with his family was denied until late in the night.

What would you do in case of a fire?

This is the question asked by the committee of the Association of Commerce named to further observance of Fire Prevention Week in Bismarck this week. The committee is distributing literature in the city, emphasizing the great loss of property and accompanying frequent loss of life in the country each year as a result of fire. As a part of the program of education in the schools pupils from the grade taught by Miss Rita Murphy in the William Moore school will present a play-let before high school students next Tuesday.

Answering the question of what to do in case of fire, the A. of C. committee today offered the following suggestions:

"Whenever you go into a large building or auditorium - or take a train or a boat - or go to a hotel - or to a public place - you should become acquainted with the fire exits and the fire alarm system."

When a fire occurs, the location of the building is as important as the location of the building itself. It is advisable that everyone be prepared with the information in advance.

"If you happen to be in such a place when a fire occurs, keep from getting excited and use your best efforts to prevent excitement among those near you. If in a crowd, do not try to run or push your way through. It has always been found that a building can be emptied much more quickly if the occupants leave calmly and orderly than if they are excited."

"If your clothes catch on fire, never attempt to run. Your movement simply fans the flames. The quickest and best method of extinguishing burning clothing is to roll the wearer in a rug or blanket, or any other heavy material. Care should be used to extinguish the flames around the face and head as well as the body."

"If you are unfortunate enough to be caught in a burning building, remember that smoke and flames travel more quickly than there is a draft. It pays to think a moment of the results before throwing open windows and doors. A door opened at the wrong moment may cause smoke to run into the rooms, overwhelming the occupants or making their escape impossible. When leaving a burning room, close the door. This will retard the spread of flames. It is impossible to remember that it is natural for smoke to rise. There is no fire, therefore, less smoke near the floor and in a burning room you will be safest if you keep your head as low as possible. The best method of leaving a room full of smoke is by crawling.

In case of emergency a rope often can be quickly made out of bed sheets. It is important to remember that, however, to tear the sheets into strips, before tying them. In this manner one of two sheets will provide

Who Speaks from Experience

Millions of others are believing now, that the common way to square deal from our government, and that the only way, and that we were being discriminated against. I made efforts to bring about the over-throw of the leadership of strikes and revolution, because I believed that it would secure justice.

I thought the fault to some extent could be laid to me. I was one of the millions who by their actions in repressing living off the public were retarding the very progress to bring about.

I came to the Salvation Army, at one of their hotels. I was penniless and received the benefit of an unselfish organization that perhaps this world wasn't so bad after all. I joined the Salvation Army in one of their Industrial Homes, and as representatives I learned of new things and I got a

FIRE
A Friend When Respected Fire Prevention Week
October 7-13

EASIEST WAY
Takes a camping trip in the "tall and uncut" to make city people appreciate the comforts and conveniences they have at home. Maybe you've had an experience like Rodger Dolan's:

Dolan thought the farms were getting too civilized for a real outing from metropolitanism, so he vacationed in the Canadian woods.

"I never appreciated how easily we cook with gas and heat with coal at home, until I had to chop the firewood up north," Dolan writes. "To get enough wood for our cook stove and for the big fireplace in our log cabin at night, I had to saw and split about an hour a day. My time is surely worth $1 an hour, so it cost me $30 a month for fuel—in the summer! It'd be several times that, in winter."

"Another thing: At home, when we want water, we merely turn a faucet. Up north, I had to carry drinking water half a mile from a spring. And our water for cooking and washing had to be carried in buckets up a steep hill from the lake."

"To get our mail, we rowed three miles each way, a round trip consuming a couple of hours."

"Nearly everything else on the 'vacation' required a similar expenditure of time and effort. Luckily, we were able to get ice from a settler's ice house. Maybe you've dug through six feet of sawdust to get ice, carried it to a lake to wash it, then a few hundred yards to the home-made refrigerator."

Only a few generations ago, nearly every one had these inconveniences. The way has been made easier, more convenient, for the purpose of giving us leisure time. We have it. How do we use it, this leisure time bequeathed to us by a long line of toiling inventors?

GIVE CHILDREN RESPONSIBILITY
Lots of the money troubles of that well-known institution, the American Family, are due to allowing sons and daughters to live at home without paying board. So claims Miss Oller, home economics adviser of a big eastern bank. She apparently has an incorrect notion of the number of families permitting this board-free arrangement. But she's on the right track.

It's unfair to children, not to train them for responsibility. A child should work for everything it gets. The kind of work, or the amount, doesn't matter—just so he learns that money is the result of someone's labor.

WEATHER FORECAST
It's possible that, in the future, the weather forecaster will be able to predict as far as a month ahead. So claims the Weather Bureau, which already has had considerable success in this direction, sometimes striking it right three out of four times, in forecasting both temperature and rainfall.

Maybe this would have considerable commercial value. But it would make life duller, for one of the most interesting features of existence is the uncertainty of the weather. The future loses most of its charm when it becomes too certain—too cut-and-dried.

WHAT DUST IS
City air has as much as 100 million particles of dust to the cubic foot, but this drops to about 5 million particles on a clear morning after the air has been "washed" by a rain. Who did the counting? An unnamed job on the payroll of the Weather Bureau.

The dust consists of fragments of rubber tires, lime, germs, earth, shoe leather, etc. When you consider city life from all sides, the wonder is that we're alive at all, not that there's so much illness.

DRUG REACTION
Germany reveals the name of the drug used by her shock troops during the war to stimulate them to a great outburst of energy. This drug relieves fatigue and temporarily increases energy. Alcohol does the same.

But alcohol has its reaction—a slump below normal. So does the German drug. So does every stimulant, even emotions such as enthusiasm and inspiration. We can't fool nature, we can't cheat her, though all of us try repeatedly.

IN GOLDEN DAYS
This must have been an uncomfortable world in the old days. Cecinsky and Gribble have written a book revealing that the chair was a rare article of furniture 400 years ago, and was almost unknown a century before that. Previously people used stools, on which they sat more or less uncomfortably for thousands of years until some unknown lazy gent, who liked comfort, got the idea of adding a back and turning the stool into a chair.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES
Truck gardeners notice that vegetables growing near cities are contracting more plant diseases year after year. Man pollutes the atmosphere so that even plant life has difficulty living in it.

One congested civilization, with its machinery, is a generator of poison gases and the worst of these is auto exhaust.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

"Why, you've lost your gun, Mister Scare Crow," cried Nick, as he was taking a walk with Nancy and Mister Dodge through the cornfield.

"Oh, no, I haven't," nodded Mister Scare Crow, his wide straw mouth curved in a merry smile. "I didn't exactly lose it. I threw it away." And he chuckled so that he shook all over. It was the end of the season and Mister Scare Crow was getting quite old.

"And your tin-pan hat is gone, too," said Nancy, suddenly noticing that the sentinel of the cornfield was bare-headed. "See, hee, hee!" chuckled Mister Scare Crow again. "I didn't lose that either. I threw it away, too!" "Indeed!" declared Mister Dodge. "You're getting quite frivolous in your old age, Cousin Scare Crow. It isn't everybody who can afford such extravagance."

"Extravagance nothing!" denied Mister Scare Crow suddenly growing sober. "One is never extravagant when helping out a friend. And if Farmer Brown can't trust me with a real gun and real bullets, one has to do the best he can."

"Whatever on earth are you talking about?" demanded Mister Dodge. "Please explain yourself."

"That's what you should have said in the first place," remarked Mister Scare Crow amiably, "without jumping at conclusions. I'll tell you all about it. Do you know, Don, the big dog?"

"Yes!" cried the Twins. "Oh, yes, yes, indeed," echoed Mister Dodge. "He's one of the nicest people in Squally-Moo Land."

"Then I think that you'll agree that I did exactly right," said Mister Scare Crow. "Well, Don has a burying place!"

"A burying place!" cried all three listeners. "Yes!" nodded Mister Scare Crow. "For bones. He had to have it a secret, so he buried all his bones right here at my feet. He really has quite a boneyard and I never told a soul."

"But one day, Tike, Farmer Smith's dog, discovered his secret and started to dig the bones all up. I didn't know what to do at first, I was so upset. And then I thought on my gun. I let it drop right on my back as hard as I could. He barked and ran away, but by 'nd by he came back. So I had to do some more thinking."

"Then my tin pan hat popped into my head. The very thing! So I shook it off and it not only landed on him but made enough noise for a war. He ran like a streak and I don't think he'll come back this time," chuckled the straw man.

Nick picked up his gun and Nancy got his hat. Mister Dodge shook his limp straw head heartily. "You're what I call a real friend," he declared. "I apologize for every word."

MANDAN NEWS

Former Mandan Teacher Killed

Mrs. Chester Nelson, formerly Miss Cora Burns, a teacher in the Mandan school, was recently mortally wounded when a rifle exploded as she opened a closet door at her home in Minneapolis, according to information received here by local friends.

The bullet penetrated her abdomen and lungs. Funeral services were held in Winona, Minn., Saturday. About six weeks ago the Nelson family and their six children moved to Minneapolis from Litchfield.

The foundation of the new unit of the high school was staked out Monday afternoon and work in construction will be rushed before cool weather sets in. Eight of the large trees, which had been placed in 1900 when the old Central building was built were felled yesterday to make room for the building.

Frank, 8-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ressler of near the city, underwent an appendectomy yesterday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Suchy yesterday.

Miss Florence Taylor, a graduate nurse of the Northwestern hospital at Minneapolis is the new supervisor of the operating room of the Mandan Deaconess hospital. Miss Agnes Peterson who had held the position will leave in a short time for her home at Driscoll and later for Florida with her two brothers. She will enter hospital work there.

C. B. Holton, government inspector, has gone to Portal with three girls who evaded the Canadian head tax when they came to Mandan with the Dominion shows during the Missouri State fair. The girls, Barbara La Roque, Celia Thorne and Marjorie Meyer, will be turned over to the authorities in Canada. They have been in this country since Sept. 1.

Miss Kate Harrington of Jamestown who has been spending the past two months in the city, a guest of her sister, Mrs. George Johns, left yesterday for her home.

S. P. Weekes, pioneer rancher and well known glove man is in a hospital at Flasher suffering from blood-poisoning of the foot as a result of stepping on a rusty nail.

Miss Josephine Hess was hostess yesterday to a number of her playmates from 4:30 to 7 o'clock, the occasion being her tenth birthday.

Mike Mc Donough who has the regular run on the Mett branch of the N. P. railway out of Mandan is visiting with relatives in Glendive.

There are 222 varieties of wheat which have a botanical difference from one another.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER

I hardly knew how I got home, although I must have been conscious enough of material things to drive my car, for I had no accident. I went upstairs and sat down in my own room, after carefully locking the door—just why I do not know, but the idea was so stupendous that I wanted no interruptions while thinking about it.

How did Alice come with such a magnificent and valuable string of pearls, and having them, why did she give them to me? Could it be possible that she did not know the pearls were real?

When she handed me the pearls she said, after I had exclaimed with delight over them, that she had come across a man who had purchased them for someone that he had cared for very much, and then, as he lost her, he did not want them any more. She said she had found out how to obtain them through Betty Stokley, and knowing that Betty Stokley was abroad, I jumped at the conclusion that she had gotten these beads, as I supposed they were, from some foreigner who had arrived in this country, and becoming hard pressed for money, had sold them to her.

Did Alice tell me the truth? Did she really find some man who was desperate because he had lost the woman for whom he bought the jewels and who was willing to sell them to her as imitation pearls? Or did she know that the pearls were real, and by driving a sharp bargain with the man, ask father for the generous check which he would have to give for them at bargain-price?

One moment I was ready to cable her and then I was afraid that someone else would get the cable, or if she answered, someone other than myself might get it. I wanted to ask my father if he knew anything about it, but again I was afraid. It didn't seem to me possible that dad would have kept it all to himself that he was giving me, through Alice, a string of glorious pearls; a string worth over two hundred thousand dollars.

No, that wasn't like dad. He always wanted his gifts appreciated at their proper value, notwithstanding he was always very generous. I felt I could never wear the jewels again. I would be afraid every minute that someone would take them from me. I knew now why it was that the man at the restaurant table had been looking at me so the time that Jack wanted to kiss him. He probably was a pearl connoisseur.

Over two hundred thousand dollars! How foolish for one in my position to have such jewels. (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

Mayville Normal Has 290 Students

Mayville, N. D., Oct. 10.—The Mayville normal school opened on last Tuesday morning with 290 students enrolled. This is an increase of 60 per cent over the enrollment of last fall term.

SHORT COATS
Short jackets and blouses of gold or silver cloth are a novelty this season and are combined with the soft wools and velvets that are so prevalent.

Silver was first coined in Rome in 269 B. C., when Fabius Pictor set up a mint.

With the wilderness of British Columbia as their goal, a man, his wife and their two children left Minneapolis one evening last week on the second lap of a 2,000 mile automobile race with death, they passed through Bismarck to Minot.

Should they win the race, the mother and children will be provided for in later life through the income from 160 acres of government-grant land which must receive its final "proving up" this fall.

Their story is one of grim determination and plucky endurance. Four months ago the family arrived at the Mayo hospital, Rochester, for medical treatment for the father, victim of a cancerous disease which had wasted his body from 180 to 120 pounds.

The savings of years of trapping and minor farming in the fastness of the British Columbia forests dwindled rapidly as the days dragged into weeks and months. Finally his case was rated as hopeless.

With almost certain death facing him, the father decided it would be best to return to their government land at the tiny settlement of Big Lake, Canada, so that his wife and their children would be provided for in case of death.

Railroad fare totaled more than the remainder of their savings, so they bought a used automobile, for next to nothing. Clothing was provided by friends at Rochester. Food sufficient for several weeks was purchased, and the long journey started.

Near Minneapolis a bearing turned out. With only $11 left, the family appealed to several charitable organizations for aid. It was granted by the Salvation Army.

Co-operating with an automobile repair company, the Salvation Army repaired the car, provided hotel room and meals for the family, and after a needed rest, started them on their way.

"We wouldn't have asked for help unless we absolutely had to have it," the woman said. "But father is unable to work. We have only $11—and that won't last long."

There was a sad, sweet smile; a grim determination to win against all the tremendous odds, and to provide a home for the youngsters, two and four years old, regardless of what happened.

If the family can win its race with death, their wish will be accomplished. If death wins, a brave little woman alone in the world with her two young children, must look to charity to provide a final resting place for her mate, facing the grim future penitence.

No well defined storm area appears on the weather map this morning and the weather is generally fair in all sections except for light showers over the Plains States and in Montana and Colorado. Temperature changes during the past 24 hours have been slight. Only a few places in the Dakotas had minimum temperatures below fifty degrees last night.

The roads throughout the State are mostly in good condition.

Salvation Army Helps Man, Wife and Family Through Bismarck in Race

With the wilderness of British Columbia as their goal, a man, his wife and their two children left Minneapolis one evening last week on the second lap of a 2,000 mile automobile race with death, they passed through Bismarck to Minot.

Should they win the race, the mother and children will be provided for in later life through the income from 160 acres of government-grant land which must receive its final "proving up" this fall.

CONSIDER THE MUSHROOM, ITS FINE EATING

(By Herbert Hard)

The unusual abundance of delicious edible mushrooms this season growing in North Dakota, reminds the housewife that she may have something to serve besides eighteen cent potatoes, to reduce the "high cost of living". Literally there are bushels of "Shaggy Mane", "button", and straw-colored citterybe, (equally appetizing), puff-balls, etc., on vacant lots, the filled-in ground, the river drives, etc., if one but knows where to look and what to look for.

The average housewife would gladly serve these tempting and very nutritious dishes, could she but know the good from the bad ones. While it surely behooves one to be on the safe side, taking no chances on getting a deadly poisonous "toadstool", it is a fact that there are very few varieties that are at all poisonous. The vast majority are good food, for one who has relish for them. Statistics show that in Paris and many other European and American cities, mushrooms are a staple article of diet, many millions of pounds being annually consumed. They are half the food of many peasants—and disconcerting Americans!

Use of the present Dakota crop in any such dish would mean many hundreds of dollars of food value in this city alone. The identical article in the east and in the twin cities sells from 75c to a dollar a pound. Some Fargo groceries, and cafes are introducing fresh mushrooms at a low price to cultivate a local taste for a local product which can be had free in the fields.

It is naturally almost worth a person's reputation being "mushroomed" by such people, who are the few local "bugs" who "hunt toadstools", little appreciating what they are "passing up"—or the indifference of the enthusiast! Many more, however, would only be too glad to eat them, could they but have the edible kinds identified positively for them. Any one of the half dozen local enthusiasts who are "up on mushrooms" will be only too glad to identify them if called upon anytime between 6 a. m. and midnight.

Those wishing to learn mushrooms scientifically from the botany side, and be able to identify them for themselves will find great pleasure in Clements and Peck's booklets, the bulletins of the U. S. Department of Agriculture or in the finely illustrated book of more costly complete volumes of Atkinson, McIlvane and of Myron Hard, all of which can be found in local libraries or from eastern publishers.

F. E. Clements, now of the Carnegie Foundation as food expert and director, gave the Minnesota mushroom crop; "An object to the guide book to mushrooms is to make available the enormous annual crop, which is now almost wasted through fear or neglect. Figured on the market price of cultivated mushrooms, the total value of the crop in Minnesota can hardly be less than a million dollars. Just what would be the effect of utilizing this food supply is a matter of conjecture, but there is little doubt it would prove very valuable from the standpoint of economies as well as dietetic."

Twin city hobbyists have maintained a large Mushroom Club for many years, holding regular meetings, occasional mushroom banquets and exhibits at the State Fair. Fargo "bugs" are seriously considering doing likewise.

Advancing Years Need Stomach Help

If Inclined to Sour Risings, Heartburn, Gasiness, Stomach Distress, or Indigestion, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sweeten and Bring Quick Relief.

Our digestive system, with a little help, will pick out of a diversified diet what the body needs to sustain health. It is the sour stomach, gasiness and acid condition that staves trouble all along the line, particularly with people getting on in years. If they will use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating, the stomach will sweeten; eggs, milk, cheese and meat will be digested, gas will not form and the system will thus get nourishment and strength unimpeded by indigestion and harmful fermentation. Get a 60-cent box of these wonderful tablets and learn what it means to enjoy meals without consequent indigestion.

THEY'LL BE SEEN IN "BLOSSOM TIME"

Teddy Webb (center); Gertrude Lan, Lane Elber and De Veemon Ramsey in "Blossom Time."

Teddy Webb, who handles the comedy role of Krantz, the Court Jeweler, in "Blossom Time," the Franz Schubert musical play, which comes to the Auditorium Theatre for a limited engagement of one night, Tuesday, October 16th has played in the productions of the Messrs. Schubert for eleven years, and believes

Since that time he has appeared in the productions of "The Mikado" and "Whose Hopes are Yours?" "The Midnight Girl," "The Blue Paradise" and for four seasons as "Krantz" in "Blossom Time." This latter role he has played 1475 times. Before going to the productions of the Messrs. Schubert, Mr. Webb was leading comedian at the Tivoli in San Francisco. He was brought to this country for the first production of "The Mikado" here and sang the tenor role.

panies his preaching by realistic pantomime enactment of stories from the Good Book.

Garbed as were the people in the time of Genesis, the preacher's characters emerge from the pages of the Testament which measures some eight feet in height, and in their flowing robes and long hair, vividly portray whatever lesson he has in store for his congregation.

Rev. Sawyer's new religious drama has shaken Portland's clergy into a new train of thought, and many commendations have come his way for the inventive genius which prompted conception of the idea.

"This has been my life's ambition," the clergyman explains. "When a mere boy preparing for the ministry, I first thought of the plan of enacting Bible stories in real life, and not until now have I been able to do so."

Rev. Sawyer has supplemented his plays by rewriting parts of the Testament into poetry as a measure to give added harmony to the sketches.

On the night of the first presentation, many of the city's prominent citizens took character parts in the story from Genesis which deals with Hagar, the bond woman.

Rev. Sawyer, had the leading role, appearing as Abraham with staff and the venerable makeup of flowing beard and white gown.

He plans to go on tour to bring the story of the Bible more forcibly before the people of all lands.

VOLCANO IN ROCKIES

Forecast by Scientist; Predicts Many Other Changes in Earth

By BOB DORMAN.

NEA Service Staff Writer.
Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—A new volcano in the Rockies.

A chain of mountains that will girdle the earth across the equator! These are the latest predictions of Dr. Milton A. Nobles, geologist and scientist, whose forecast of a coming cataclysm which would destroy all of Europe, Ireland, North Africa, Southern Alaska, Northern Canada, Asia Minor, South and East Asia, Japan, the Philippines and East Indies, was printed recently in the Bismarck Tribune.

Since the publication of that story, there have been 18 earthquakes in the areas indicated.

And now Dr. Nobles' further predictions are being studied with interest. For this old Philadelphia physician is establishing himself as the foremost forecaster of earth changes.

He hasn't given up his work as physician. He still keeps on practicing with out charge. But in all his off moments, he sits at his desk, puffs away at a pipe, and studies maps, weather reports, and charts of wind movements.

The work seems to keep him young. For although he must be well over 70, he has the strength and endurance of a man in the prime of life.

He won't tell his exact age. He doesn't like to talk about it. But he will tell about his predictions.

"The earth," says Dr. Nobles, "has already passed through two great cataclysms. The history of the first has been lost in the mists of time."

"But the record of the second has been handed down to posterity by the few survivors of the 'Deluge.'"

"Mountain ranges, you know, are built up at the equator, due to conflicting wave action and coral building. And cataclysms are due to the blowing up of volcanic areas through the volcanic fires eating away the superimposed rock, until fissuring takes place, and enormously destructive explosions follow."

"The so-called 'Deluge' was just such a cataclysm. So vast was the explosion, that the lands which formed the first equatorial chain of mountains were hurled far and wide. The remaining lands were swept by gigantic tidal waves."

"The second equatorial chain of mountains is that portion of the world which is about to be destroyed, within ten years, perhaps."

"The third equatorial chain of mountains formed the equator at the time of the 'Deluge,' and is that portion of the globe forming the west coast of the Western Hemisphere, and up through Australia, China and Siberia."

Not far from that equator, located I think, somewhere in what is now Virginia, was the Garden of Eden. There, and not in Asia, as is commonly believed, was the home of the human race, the place where Adam and Eve lived.

"The action of the world forming the third equator is the youngest chain of mountains in the world. It must eventually pass through the same cataclysm as the others."

But this won't happen for several thousands of years, Dr. Nobles assures us.

"They will, however, be the constant scene of volcanic and earth-quake activities, growing more and more violent."

Coming nearer home, Dr. Nobles has this to say about the changes in our mountains:

"The coming of the volcano in the Rockies is shown by the terrific wind and rainstorms which have swept the western states."

"The heating of the atmosphere in its neighborhood, causes the hot air to rise. Air rushes in from both north and south, the cold air of the north mingling with the water-charged warm air of the gulf regions."

"This causes precipitation, and as the Rockies block the passage of the winds to the west, they sweep eastward. I look for heavy rains and

"And eventually Mt. Lassen, that volcano in the California coast range which has shown some signs of life in the past few years, will have a companion somewhere in the Rockies. But this new volcano will not be extremely active for some time. It will not be dangerous for hundreds of years."

Where will the next earth disturbance be?

"In the West Indies," predicts Dr. Nobles. "The islands belong to the third equatorial chain. They should show signs of earthquakes or volcanic action well within 30 days."

How does he arrive at his uncanny knowledge of coming quakes?

"By observing wind directions," Dr. Nobles replied, "and above all by the knowledge that comes out of space."

EXILE FINDS LONDON REFUGE

Flees Across Six European Borders Unrecognized to England

London, Oct. 10.—Stephen Raditch, the stormy petrel of Yugoslavia, is now in London. The irrepressible Croatian patriot, who has been compared to Patrick Henry, Kossuth, d'Annunzio and De Valera, fled across six European borders unrecognized and found refuge in the British capital. The Belgrade authorities had accused him of high treason for defying the government and comparing the country's young queen, Marie, to Madame de Pompadour for her extravagance.

Raditch was formerly a bookseller in Zagreb, Croatia. He is gifted with great eloquence, and all the independent spirit and fiery temper of the true patriot. He began his bloodless fight for home rule against the Serbs in 1918, after Croatia had become merged with the new kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes.

Like the sons of Ireland who fought to achieve the independence of their country, Raditch from that time never ceased the struggle for the freedom of his countrymen. He was a constant thorn in the side of the Belgrade government, which both feared and respected him. After warning him many times against his radical utterances, the cabinet had him arrested, but soon ordered his release when his supporters threatened a revolution.

Raditch is sometimes described as "the Mystery Man of Europe," and he has always been an enigma even to the Serbs, who variously call him charlatan, scoundrel and lunatic. But none of these epithets is regarded.

"The coming of the volcano in the Rockies is shown by the terrific wind and rainstorms which have swept the western states."

"The heating of the atmosphere in its neighborhood, causes the hot air to rise. Air rushes in from both north and south, the cold air of the north mingling with the water-charged warm air of the gulf regions."

"This causes precipitation, and as the Rockies block the passage of the winds to the west, they sweep eastward. I look for heavy rains and

Not far from that equator, located I think, somewhere in what is now Virginia, was the Garden of Eden. There, and not in Asia, as is commonly believed, was the home of the human race, the place where Adam and Eve lived.

"The action of the world forming the third equator is the youngest chain of mountains in the world. It must eventually pass through the same cataclysm as the others."

But this won't happen for several thousands of years, Dr. Nobles assures us.

"They will, however, be the constant scene of volcanic and earth-quake activities, growing more and more violent."

The unusual abundance of delicious edible mushrooms this season growing in North Dakota, reminds the housewife that she may have something to serve besides eighteen cent potatoes, to reduce the "high cost of living." Literally there are bushels of "Shaggy Mane," "buttons," and straw-colored citocybe, (equally appetizing), puff-balls, etc. on vacant lots, the filled-in ground, the river drives, etc., if one but knows where to look and what to look for.

The average housewife would gladly serve these tempting and very nutritious dishes, could she but know the good from the bad ones. While it surely behooves one to be on the safe side, no chances on getting a deadly poisonous "toadstool," it is a fact that there are very few varieties that are at all poisonous. The vast majority are good food, for one who has relish for them. Statistics show that in Paris and many other European and American cities, mushrooms are a staple article of diet, many millions of pounds being annually consumed. They are half the food of many peasants—and discriminating Americans!

Use of the present Dakota crop in any such degree as all Europeans eat them would mean many hundreds of dollars of food value in this city alone. The identical article in the east and in the twin cities sells from 75c to a dollar a pound. Some Fargo groceries, and cafes are introducing fresh mushrooms at a low price to cultivate a local taste for a local product which can be had free in the fields.

It is naturally almost worth a person's reputation being their heads and smile knowing that the few local "bugs" who "hunt toadstools," little appreciating what they are "passing up"—or the indifference of the enthusiast! Many more, however, would only be too glad to eat them, could they but have the edible kinds identified positively for them. Any one of the half dozen local enthusiasts who are "up on mushrooms" will be only too glad to identify them if called upon anytime between 6 a. m. and midnight!

Those wishing to learn mushrooms scientifically from the botany side, and be able to identify them for themselves will find great pleasure in Clements and Peck's booklets, the bulletins of the U. S. Department of Agriculture or in the finely illustrated but more costly complete volumes of Atkinson, McIlvane and of Myron Hard, all of which can be had in local libraries or from eastern publishers.

F. E. Clements, now of the Carnegie Foundation as food expert and division, says of the Minnesota mushroom crop, "An object to the guide book to mushrooms is to make available the enormous annual crop, which is now almost wasted through fear or neglect. Figured on the market price of cultivated mushrooms, the total value of the crop in Minnesota can hardly be less than a million dollars. Just what would be the effect of utilizing this food supply is a matter of conjecture, but there is little doubt it would prove very valuable from the standpoint of economics as well as dietetics." Twin city hobbyists have maintained a large Mushroom Club for many years, holding regular meetings, occasional mushroom banquets and exhibits at the State Fair. Fargo "bugs" are seriously considering doing likewise.

Advancing Years Need Stomach Help

If Inclined to Sour Risings, Heartburn, Gasiness, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sweeten and Bring Quick Relief.

Our digestive system, with a little help, will pick out of a diversified diet what the body needs to sustain health. It is the sour stomach, gasiness and acid condition that starts trouble all along the line, particularly with people getting on in years. If they will use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating, the stomach will sweeten; eggs, milk, cheese and meat will be digested, gas will not form and the system will thus get nourishment and strength unhindered by indigestion and harmful fermentation. Get a 60-cent box of these wonderful tablets and learn what it means to enjoy meals without consequent indigestion.

THEY'LL BE SEEN IN "BLOSSOM TIME"

Teddy Webb (center); Gertrude Lan, Line Libber and De Veemon Ramsay in "Blossom Time."

Teddy Webb, who handles the comedy role of Krantz, the Court Jeweler, in "Blossom Time," the Franz Schubert musical play, which comes to the Auditorium Theatre for a limited engagement of one night, Tuesday, October 10th has played in the productions of the Messrs. Shubert for eleven years, and believes that he holds the record for continuous service with these producers. Eleven years ago he played his first part for them, that of Blatz, a comedy character in "The Balkan Princess" at the Casino Theatre, N. Y.

Since that time he has appeared in "All for the Ladies" with Sam Herbert for eleven years, and believes all of Europe, Ireland, North Africa, Southern Alaska, Northern Canada, Asia Minor, South and East Asia, Japan, the Philippines and East Indies, was printed recently in the Bismarck Tribune.

Since the publication of that story, there have been 18 earthquakes in the areas indicated!

And now Dr. Nobles' further predictions are being studied with interest. For this old Philadelphia physician is establishing himself as the foremost forecaster of earth changes.

He hasn't given up his work as physician. He still keeps on practicing with out charge. But in all his off moments, he sits at his desk, puffs away at a pipe, and studies maps, weather reports, and charts of wind movements.

The work seems to keep him young. For although he must be well over 70, he has the strength and endurance of a man in the prime of life.

He won't tell his exact age. He doesn't like to talk about it. But he will tell about his predictions.

"The earth," says Dr. Nobles, "has already passed through two great cataclysms. The history of the first has been lost in the mists of time. But the record of the second has been handed down to posterity by the few survivors of the 'Deluge'."

"Mountain ranges, you know, are built up at the equator, due to conflicting wave action and coral building. Any cataclysm are due to the blowing up of volcanic areas through the superimposed rock, until fissuring takes place, and enormously destructive explosions follow."

"The so-called 'Deluge' was just such a cataclysm. So vast was the explosion, that the lands which formed the first equatorial chain of mountains were hurled far and wide. The remaining lands were swept by gigantic tidal waves."

"The second equatorial chain of mountains is that portion of the world which is about to be destroyed, within ten years, perhaps."

"The third equatorial chain of mountains formed the equator at the time of the 'Deluge,' and is that portion of the globe forming the west coast of the Western Hemisphere,

and up through Australia, China and Siberia.

Not far from that equator, located I think, somewhere in what is now Virginia, was the Garden of Eden. There, and not in Asia, as is commonly believed, was the home of the human race, the place where Adam and Eve lived.

"The section of the world forming the third equator is the youngest chain of mountains in the world. It must eventually pass through the same cataclysm as the others."

But this won't happen for several thousands of years, Dr. Nobles assures us.

"Lacy will, however, be the constant scene of volcanic and earthquake activities, growing more and more violent."

Coming nearer home, Dr. Nobles has this to say about the changes in our mountains:

"The coming of the volcano in the Rockies is shown by the terrific wind and rainstorms which have swept the western states."

"The heating of the atmosphere in its neighborhood, causes the hot air to rise. Air rushes in from both north and south, the cold air of the north mingling with the water-charged warm air of the Gulf regions."

"This causes precipitations, and as the Rockies block the passage of the winds to the west, they sweep eastward. I look for heavy rains and windstorms in the country tributary to the Mississippi.

"And eventually Mt. Lassen, that volcano in the California coast range which has shown some signs of life in the past few years, will have a companion somewhere in the Rockies. But this new volcano will not be extremely active for some time. It will not be dangerous for hundreds of years."

Where will the next earth disturbance be?

"In the West Indies," predicts Dr. Nobles. "The islands belong to the third equatorial chain. They should show signs of earthquakes or volcanic action well within 30 days."

How does he arrive at his uncanny knowledge of coming quakes?

"By observing wind directions," Dr. Nobles replied, "and above all by the knowledge that comes out of space."

"We are all children of nature, at one with her if we will be. Just as you know when your finger is cut, so do I know when anything is wrong with earth."

London, Oct. 10.—Stephen Raditch, the story writer of Yugoslavia, is now in London. The irrepressible Croatian patriot, who has been compared to Patrick Henry, Kossuth, d'Annunzio and De Valera, fled across six European borders unrecognized and found refuge in the British capital. The Belgrade authorities had accused him of high treason for defying the government and comparing the country's young queen, Marie, to Madame de Pompadour for her extravagance.

Raditch was formerly a bookseller in Zagreb, Croatia. He is gifted with great eloquence, and all the independent spirit and fiery temper of the true patriot. He began his bloodless fight for home rule against the Serbs in 1918, after Croatia had become merged with the new kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes. Like the sons of Ireland who fought to achieve the independence of their country, Raditch from that time never ceased the struggle for the freedom of his countrymen. He was a constant thorn in the side of the Belgrade government, which both feared and respected him. After warning him many times against his radical utterances, the cabinet had him arrested, but soon ordered his release when his supporters threatened a revolution.

Raditch is sometimes described as the Mystery Man of Europe, and he has always been an enigma even to the Serbs, who variously call him charlatan, scoundrel and lunatic. But none of these epithets is regarded by outsiders as just, for the Croatian leader had behind him the whole of his little nation. He is small in stature and unimpressive in appearance, but possesses striking intellectual talents, much charm of manner, and many ideas which tumble over each other in their haste to find expression.

HIGH SCHOOL INCREASES IN POPULARITY

Boys and Girls no Longer "Quit School" at Conclusion of Grades

Chicago, Oct. 10.—If the boy or girl who formerly "quit school" at the end of the seventh or eighth grade is not actually becoming extinct his ranks are being decimated annually, according to reports covering an average ten year period compiled from the offices of public instruction in ten central states.

The percentage of increased high school attendance for the period was taken as the medium for estimate. The average increase figure for the decade was found to be 95.4 percent, with extremes ranging between 1,000 percent, the figure reported by Oklahoma, to 40 percent, that of Iowa.

While the figures do not unqualifiedly represent the increased proportion of grade school students entering high schools—the factor of increasing population applying largely newer states—they do indicate that the former gulf existing between the eighth grade and high school gradually is being eliminated.

In Oklahoma, according to a statement issued by Luther Russell, state high school inspector, the increase in 11 years from 1910 to 1921 was from 6,125 to 62,021, or 1,000 percent. Figures supplied by the department of education of Kentucky set the increase from 11,856 in 1913, to 36,000 in 1923—an advance of 203 percent, while in South Dakota the total number of high school students in 1922, 19,683, represented a jump of 162 percent from the 7,509 enrolled in 1912.

Vernon M. Reigel, state director of education for Ohio, gave the increase in that state as 120 percent, an advance from 80,609, the figure for 1912, to 178,705, that for 1922.

Takes a camping trip in the "tail and uncut" to make city people appreciate the comforts and conveniences they have at home. Maybe you've had an experience like Rodger Dolan's:
Dolan thought the farms were getting too civilized for a real-outing from metropolitanism, so he vacationed in the Canadian woods.
"I never appreciated how easily we cook with gas and heat with coal at home, until I had to chop the firewood up north," Dolan writes. "To get enough wood for our cook stove and for the big fireplace in our log cabin at night, I had to saw and split about an hour a day. My time is surely worth $1 an hour, so it cost me $30 a month for fuel—in the summer! It'd be several times that, in winter."
"Another thing: At home, when we want water, we merely turn a faucet. Up north, I had to carry drinking water half a mile from a spring. And our water for cooking and washing had to be carried in buckets up a steep hill from the lake."
"To get our mail, we rowed three miles each way, a round trip consuming a couple of hours."
"Nearly everything else on the 'vacation' required a similar expenditure of time and effort. Luckily, we were able to get ice from a settler's ice house. Maybe you've dug through six feet of sawdust to get ice, carried it to a lake to wash it, then a few hundred yards to the home-made refrigerator."
Only a few generations ago, nearly every one had these inconveniences. The way has been made easier, more convenient, for the purpose of giving us leisure time. We have it. How do we use it, this leisure time bequeathed to us by a long line of toiling inventors?

By Olive Roberts Barton
"Why, you've lost your gun, Mister Scare Crow," cried Nick, as he was taking a walk with Nancy and Mister Dodge through the corn-field.
"Oh, no, I haven't," nodded Mister Scare Crow, his wide straw mouth curved in a merry smile. "I didn't exactly lose it. I threw it away." And he chuckled so that he shook all over. It was the end of the season and Mister Scare Crow was getting quite old.
"And your tin-pan hat is gone, too," said Nancy, suddenly noticing that the sentinel of the corn-field was bare-headed.
"Tee, hee, hee!" chuckled Mister Scare Crow again. "I didn't lose that either. I threw it away, too!"
"Indeed!" declared Mister Dodge. "You're getting quite frivolous in your old age, Cousin Scare Crow. It isn't everybody who can afford such extravagance!"
"Extravagance nothing!" denied Mister Scare Crow suddenly growing sober. "One is never extravagant when helping out a friend. And if Farmer Brown can't trust me with a real gun and real bullets, one has to do the best he can."
"Whatever on earth are you talking about?" demanded Mister Dodge. "Please explain yourself."
"That's what you should have said in the first place," remarked Mister Scare Crow amiably, "without jumping at conclusions. I'll tell you all about it. Do you know, Don, the big dog?"
"Yes!" cried the Twins.
"Oh, yes, yes, indeed," echoed Mister Dodge. "He's one of the nicest people in Squeaky-Moo Land."
"Then I think that you'll agree that I did exactly right," said Mister Scare Crow. "Well, Don has a burying place."
"A burying place!" cried all three listeners.
"Yes!" nodded Mister Scare Crow. "For bones. He had to have it a secret, so he buried all his bones right here at my feet. He really has quite a boneyard and I never told a soul."
"But one day, Tike, Farmer Smith's dog, discovered his secret and started to dig the bones all up. I didn't know what to do at first. I was so upset. And then I thought of my gun. I let it drop right on his back as hard as I could. He barked and ran away, but by 'nd by he came back. So I had to do some more thinking."
"Then my tin pan hat popped into my head. The very thing! So I shook it off and it not only landed on him but made enough noise for a war. He ran like a streak and I don't think he'll come back this time," chuckled the straw man.
Nick picked up his gun and Nancy got his hat.
Mister Dodge shook his limp straw hand heartily. "You're what I call a real friend," he declared. "I apologize for every word."

Former Mandan Teacher Killed
Mrs. Chester Nelson, formerly Miss Cora Burns, a teacher in the Mandan school, was recently mortally wounded when a rifle exploded as she opened a closet door at her home in Minneapolis, according to information received here by local friends. The bullet penetrated her abdomen and lungs. Funeral services were held in Winona, Minn., Saturday. About six weeks ago the Nelson family and their six children moved to Minneapolis from Litchfield.
The foundation of the new unit of the hospital was laid out Monday afternoon and work in construction will be rushed before cool weather sets in. Eight of the large trees which had been placed in 1900 when the old Central building was built were felled yesterday to make room for the building.
Frank, 8-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kessler of near the city, underwent an appendectomy yesterday.
A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Suchy yesterday.
Miss Florence Taylor, a graduate nurse of the Northwestern hospital at Minneapolis is the new supervisor of the operating room of the Mandan hospital. Miss Taylor, Miss Agnes Peterson who had held the position will leave in a short time for her home at Driscoll and later for Florida with her two brothers. She will enter hospital work there.
C. B. Holton, government inspector, has gone to Portal with three girls who evaded the Canadian head tax when they came to Mandan with the Dominion shows during the Missouri Slope fair. The girls, Barbara La Rocque, Celia Thorne and Marjorie Meyer, will be turned over to the authorities in Canada. They have been in this country since Sept. 1.
Miss Kate Harrington of Jamestown who has been spending the past two months in the city, a guest of her sister, Mrs. George Johns, left yesterday for her home.
S. P. Weekes, pioneer rancher and well known slope man is in a hospital at Flasher suffering from blood-poisoning of the foot as a result of stepping on a rusty nail.
Miss Josephine Hess was hostess yesterday to a number of her playmates from 4:30 to 7 o'clock, the occasion being her tenth birthday.
Mike Mc Donough who has the regular run on the Mott branch of the N. P. railway out of Mandan is visiting with relatives in Glendive.
There are 322 varieties of wheat which have a botanical difference from one another.

Lots of the money troubles of that well-known institution, the American Family, are due to allowing sons and daughters to live at home without paying board. So claims Miss Oller, home economics adviser of a big eastern bank. She apparently has an incorrect notion of the number of families permitting this board-free arrangement. But she's on the right track.
It's unfair to children, not to train them for responsibility. A child should work for everything it gets. The kind of work, or the amount, doesn't matter—just so he learns that money is the result of someone's labor.

It's possible that, in the future, the weather forecaster will be able to predict as far as a month ahead. So claims the Weather Bureau, which already has had considerable success in this direction, sometimes striking it right three out of four times, in forecasting both temperature and rainfall.
Maybe this would have considerable commercial value. But it would make life duller, for one of the most interesting features of existence is the uncertainty of the weather. The future loses most of its charm when it becomes too certain—too cut-and-dried.

WHAT DUST IS
City air has as much as 100 million particles of dust to the cubic foot, but this drops to about 5 million particles on a clear morning after the air has been "washed" by a rain. Who did the counting? An unnamed Job on the payroll of the Weather Bureau.
The dust consists of fragments of rubber tires, lime, germs, earth, shoe leather, etc. When you consider city life from all sides, the wonder is that we're alive at all, not that there's so much illness.

Germany reveals the name of the drug used by her shock troops during the war to stimulate them to a great outburst of energy. This drug relieves fatigue and temporarily increases energy. Alcohol does the same.
But alcohol has its reaction—a slump below normal. So does the German drug. So does every stimulant, even emotion—as enthusiasm and inspiration. We can't fool nature. We can't cheat her, though all of us try repeatedly.

IN OLDEN DAYS
This must have been an uncomfortable world in the old days. One can only imagine how they have written a book revealing that the chair was a rare article of furniture 400 years ago, and was almost unknown a century before that. Previously people used stools on which they sat more or less uncomfortable for thousands of years until some unknown lazy gent. who had comforted the idea of adding a back and turning the stool into a chair.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES
Truck gardeners notice that vegetables growing near cities are contracting more plant diseases year after year. Man pollutes the atmosphere so that even plant life has difficulty living in it.
Our congested civilization, with its machinery, is a generator of poison gases and the worst of these is auto exhaust.

The Tangle
LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER
I hardly knew how I got home, although I must have been conscious enough of material things to drive my car, for I had no accident. I went upstairs and sat down in my own room, after carefully locking the door—just why I do not know, but the idea was so stupendous that I was thinking of interruptions while I was writing.
How did Alice come with such a magnificent and valuable string of pearls, and having them, why did she give them to me? Could it be possible that she did not know the pearls were real?
When she handed me the pearls she said, after I had exclaimed with delight over them, that she had come across a man who had purchased them for someone that he had cared for very, very much, and then, as he lost her, he did not want them any more. She said she had found out how to obtain them through Betty Stokley, and knowing that Betty Stokley was abroad, I jumped at the conclusion that she had gotten these beads, as I supposed they were, from some foreigner who had arrived in this country, and becoming hard pressed for money, had sold them to her.
Did Alice tell me the truth? Did she really find some man who was desperate because he had lost the woman for whom he bought the jewels and who was willing to sell them to her as imitation pearls? Or did she know that the pearls were real, and by driving a sharp bargain

Salvation Army Helps Man, Wife and Family Through Bismarck in Race
With the wilderness of British Columbia as their goal, a man, his wife and their two children left Minneapolis an evening last week on the second lap of a 2,000 mile automobile race with death. They passed through Bismarck to Minot.
Should they win the race, the mother and children will be provided for in later life through the income from 160 acres of government-grant land which must receive its final "proving up" this fall.
Their story is one of grim determination and plucky endurance.
Four months ago the family arrived at the Mayo hospital, Rochester, for medical treatment. For the father, victim of a cancerous disease which had wasted his body from 180 to 120 pounds.
The savings of years of trapping and minor farming in the fastness of the British Columbia forests dwindled rapidly as the days dragged into weeks and months. Finally his case was rated as hopeless.
With almost certain death facing him, the father decided it would be best to return to their government land at the tiny settlement of Big Lake, Canada, so that his wife and their children would be provided for in case of death.
Railroad fare totaled more than the remainder of their savings, so they bought a used automobile, for next to nothing. Clothing was provided by friends at Rochester. Food sufficient for several weeks was purchased, and the long journey started.
Near Minneapolis a bearing burned out. With only $11 left the family appealed to several charitable organizations for aid. It was granted by the Salvation Army.
Co-operating with an automobile repair company, the Salvation Army repaired the car, put in a new bearing and made for the family, and after a needed rest, started them on their way.
"We wouldn't have asked for help unless we absolutely had to have it," the woman said. "But father is unable to work. We have only $11—and that won't last long."
There was a sad, sweet smile; a grim determination to win against all the tremendous odds, and to provide a home for the youngsters, two and four years old, regardless of what happened.
If the family can win its race with death, their wish will be accomplished. If death wins, a brave little woman alone in the world with her two young children, must look to charity to provide a final resting place for her mate, facing the grim future penniless.
WEATHER REPORT

MEDICS HOLD MEETING HERE
The Sixth District Medical Society met last evening at the Association of Commerce rooms with a number of physicians from neighboring towns in attendance.
Dr. LaRose gave a report of two interesting cases of kidney stones. A paper by Dr. Brandes on Treatment of Diabetes with Insulin, and one by Dr. Ruediger on his work with Blood Sugar Tests brought forth an interesting discussion from the different members. Dr. Quinn reported a case of fracture and dislocation at the elbow joint and Dr. Griebel gave a talk on discrepancies of the Wasserman test.
The Society accepted the resignation of Dr. Ruediger who leaves soon for the Pacific coast, and the vacancy is to be filled by appointment of the president, Dr. Bodenstab.

Farmers Week In Van Hook Success
Van Hook, Oct. 10.—The past week here, observed as farmers week, was a strong factor in putting this part of the reservation of the "prosperous farmer" map of North Dakota.
During the week, the membership of the cow testing association was greatly increased, a boys and girls dairy club was organized, and a quantity of the past three months have been shipped into the county.
Many of the farmers have come to realize the meaning of diversification, and expressed themselves the past week as being ready to change their program, and especially enter more into the dairy cattle business.

Social and Personal

Teachers Honored With Reception By Monday Club

Members of the Monday club and their husbands were hostesses and hosts to the teachers of the city schools yesterday evening at a reception which they held in the Parsonage of St. George's Episcopal church beginning at 8:30 o'clock. The hall was decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers and autumn colors. Mrs. F. A. Lahr presided at the tea table. During the evening Madam Hermann Scheffer and Miss Carol McClure sang several beautiful solos. Mrs. M. W. Ross played the accompaniment for Miss McClure.

A feature of the evening's entertainment consisted of an old fashioned spelling match, in which Miss Mary Huber and Mrs. W. S. Casselman captained the teams and Mrs. G. F. Dullman acted as instructor. Miss Helen Collins, instructor of French at the high school, proved herself the winner from among the 70 guests.

Glee Clubs Prove Popular with High School Students

Sixty-nine of the high school students have joined the boys and girls' glee clubs which have been organized this semester. Miss Elizabeth Jones directs the boys' work. She has a class of 22 while Miss Cecile Baldwin has charge of the girls' glee club which has a membership of 47.

Much enthusiasm has already been aroused and the students show by their regular attendance and attention that it is one of the popular high school activities, according to those in charge. Membership of the boys and girls glee clubs follow:

Boys: Mabel Asberg, Marian Ackerman, Ruby Aylard, Flo Anderson, Muriel Benson, Marvel Birdzell, Emma Borgeson, Edna Boss, Ellen Coghlan, Clara Cordon, Elizabeth Craven, Maxine Erdstrom, Lillie Fosberg, Irene Giovannoni, Edna Hall, Ellen Hall, Winnifred Hugelman, Clara Hultberg, Evelyn Jacobson, Anna Mary Jacobson, Lucile Katine, Annie Katz, Alice Larson, Thelma Lydahl, Ethel Mandigo, Margaret McAllister, Catherine McLean, Myrtle Miller, Catherine Moynier, Molly Parke, Margaret Reynolds, Ruth Rubin, Elizabeth Russ, Margaret Schroeder, Esther Schultz, Ostrad, Simonson, Edna Stading, Lily Sterling, Lily Sterling, Era Bell Thompson, Marie Tollison, Winnifred Trousdale, Velma Whiteaker, Mary Jane Whitely, Isabelle Zeamer, Emma Zorist, Anna Van Vleet, Jesse Scroggins, Ronald McIntyre, Richard Day, John Garske, Bill Byrne, Selmer Waage, Walter LeRoy, Earl Benson, George Owens, Herbert O'Hare, Stanley Robinson, Willis Shepard, Robert Nuesle, Donald Ellikson, Joseph Glaser, Frank Robison, Earl Finlayson, John Wilson, Everett O'Neil, Jack Dingle, Rheinhold Delzer, Fredrick Wanner.

The girls' glee club and the Boys' Glee club and the high school orchestra will take turns in leading the singing in assembly.

District Meeting Of Rebekahs

The Rebekah lodge of the city will be hostess to delegates from other Rebekah lodges in this district Friday afternoon. Representatives will come from lodges at Mandan, Flasher, Wishek, Ashley, Wilton, and Hazelton. A fine program has been prepared to begin at 2:30 o'clock. All Rebekahs are invited to attend. A banquet will be served at the Grand Pacific hotel at 6:30 o'clock, plates being a nominal price. Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are both invited to this. Those who expect to attend are asked to telephone Mrs. Brooks before Thursday evening.

The regular meeting will be held Friday evening when candidates will be initiated with Mandan lodge doing the work. Mrs. Lenora Holmes of Inkster, president of the Rebekah assembly, will be present at both meetings.

St. Mary's Juvenile Band Gives Concert

The first of a series of concerts to be given by St. Mary's Juvenile band will be held at St. Mary's auditorium Thursday, Oct. 11. The band's membership has reached 36 and has made splendid progress under the leadership of Father Slag. The band will be assisted by the school children who will sing in chorus. Several piano and violin solos will also be given.

The new act curtain was installed today at St. Mary's auditorium.

Plan Observance Of Columbus Day

Columbus Day or Discovery Day will be observed by the schools and various organizations of the city Friday, Oct. 12, a legal holiday. Short programs of various sorts have been arranged to be given in the high school and grades. Short talks on Christopher Columbus, discoverer of America are being planned by the various clubs which hold their meetings during the week. The significance of the discovery of America and its influence upon the world will be brought out.

Huge Crowds Enjoy "If Winter Comes"

The huge crowds that have swarmed to the Capitol theatre to see "If Winter Comes," Hutchinson's famous novel, are the best proof of the excellence of the play. Apparently everyone goes home and tells his friends, for new crowds attend every performance.

The picture is probably one of the most beautiful in setting that has come to Bismarck. Scenes come from the beauty spots of England. Leeds Castle, historic as the meeting place between King Henry VIII and Anne Boleyn and one of the handsomest estates in the British Isles, beautiful English country homes, and charming bits of scenery unite in making the setting for the play something to thrill the lover of beauty.

Not content with natural beauty alone Fox selected a cast of players adapted to their parts. Percy Mar-mont, the Mark Sabre of the play, played his part as only an Englishman could do it. He was English and at home in his surroundings. Ann Forrest who played opposite him interpreted her part with equal skill while even the minor characters fitted into their places as like in a mould.

And what was the greatest relief to the audience the story had not been butchered. The heart of the story remains intact. The words flashed on the screen were those readers of the novel remembered, the actions of the players were those painted in words by Mr. Hutchinson. The entire story has been packed into the screen version. The action flows along smoothly, climax after climax is reached, yet never was the action allowed to enter into the melodrama.

LEAGUERS IN COUNTY CALL FOR NEW DEAL

Want Reorganization of League or New Organization to Wipe Out Factionalism

DELEGATES NAMED

Nonpartisans of Burleigh county held a convention late yesterday in the court house to name delegates to the state convention. The convention was not necessary under the call of Chairman Church but it was decided to hold the gathering. H. W. Voight, county chairman, presided, and C. G. Boise was secretary pro tem. Delegates named were F. J. Argast, C. P. Lindsey, E. A. Thomas, James Curran, Aldrich Ward, S. S. McDonald and A. McCoy.

Resolutions were adopted identical with resolutions previously adopted in Griggs county, which called for a convention next February at which time an organization would be formed of "all progressive minded people" with branches from the state committee down to precincts. One delegate said this organization of Nonpartisan League or by the formation of a new organization. The resolutions said:

WHEREAS, there is greater need today than ever before for the influence of right against might, privilege and greed in our economic and political life, and greater need for the people to stand as one against interests which stand in the way of accomplishment of those results which would more nearly give to all those rights and privileges which it was intended they should enjoy; and

Need Organization
WHEREAS, there is greater opportunity today than ever before for the people to accomplish results through continued political action if they will but stand united and fight as one, there having come a very noticeable change in attitude on the part of hundreds and thousands of men and women who of late years have oppressed their own best interests as involved in a progressive political program, a change such as demands or will demand affiliation with some forward looking political and economic organization; and

WHEREAS, though the Nonpartisan League, in spite of its errors, some of omission and some of commission, has been a powerful influence for good in North Dakota and in the Northwest in general, it appears that there is some reason to believe that possibly the Nonpartisan League as such, can no longer function to the best advantage at this time for the reason that there are many progressive minds in North Dakota which have become prejudiced, not entirely without cause, against the organization and its very name to that degree which makes it appear seemingly evident that there is need for a reorganization or organization in which all progressives, all believers of fair political and economic play, may have a hand as builders from the ground up and in which they may affiliate without suffering any humiliation.

Conventions in February
NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that this convention of delegates to a Nonpartisan League Convention held this 10th day of October, 1923, at Bismarck, N. D., that we manifest no spirit of stubbornness in the situation but, instead, pave the way to the holding of such a state convention as will unite all the progressive factions within the state by inviting all such factions to work with us in building and maintaining such a political and economic organization in North Dakota as can and will face with clean hands and with a spirit of unselfishness the never yielding reactionary elements which refuse to curb the broad selfishness made upon the people by selfishness. Privilege and greed in bondage; Be it further resolved that, since the time of our next regular convention in February, 1924, we now establish that such a convention of delegates to a state convention as has been suggested in the foregoing paragraph of this resolution, be held in February and that this convention shall be open to ALL WHO OPPOSE THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION OF STATE AFFAIRS, that representation at the state convention shall be through the election of delegates, one from each precinct within each county to a county convention, the county convention to elect to the state convention one delegate for each 250 votes cast in that county for Lynn J. Frazer for Governor in the general election of 1916; that the precinct meetings shall be held throughout the state on the second Tuesday in November, 1923, and the county convention on the third Tuesday in November, 1923, and the state convention to be held at Bismarck on the second Tuesday in February, 1924; and that the whole matter of organization, party affiliation, or organization name, etc., shall be considered and decided by the state convention of delegates, which shall also adopt a program or platform, endorse candidates for office and provide for the carrying on of a political campaign and the building of a strong and permanent organization.

progressive-minded people. The resolution, in its preamble, said: "Whereas, through the Nonpartisan League, in spite of its errors, some of omission and some of commission, has been a powerful influence for good in North Dakota and in the northwest in general, it appears that there is some reason to believe that possibly the Nonpartisan League, as such, cannot function to the best advantage at this time for the reason that there are many progressive minds in North Dakota which have become prejudiced, not entirely without cause, against the organization and its very name to that degree which makes it appear seemingly evident that there is need for a reorganization or organization in which all progressives, all believers of fair political and economic play, may have a hand as builders from the ground up and in which they may affiliate without suffering any humiliation."

Continuing it urged that the convention today "Pave the way to the holding of such a state convention as will unite all the progressive factions within the state by inviting all such factions to work with us in building and maintaining such a political and economic organization in North Dakota as can and will face with clean hands and with a spirit of unselfishness and never yielding spirit the reactionary forces."

It proposed, inasmuch as the next league convention is regularly set for February, 1924, that "we establish that such convention be held and that it shall be open to all progressives who oppose the present administration of state affairs."

It proposed that the convention be held in Bismarck and that representation be one delegate for each 250 votes cast for Lynn J. Frazer for governor in 1916.

J. E. Snyder, editor of the United Farmer, published by the Farmers Educational League, said last night that his organization asked that the Nonpartisan League be converted into a branch of the federated Farmer-Labor party of America, formed several months ago at Chicago, and that it become known as the Farmer-Labor party in North Dakota, and that it send delegates to a federated Farmer-Labor convention in Chicago next January.

William Langer of this city said before the convention that he would take no part in it.

SENSATIONS MARK STOKES DIVORCE CASE

On cross-examination by Samuel Untermyer, chief defense counsel, Elmer Henshaw, former chauffeur, for Mrs. Stokes said "I was very friendly with Mrs. Stokes. I mean just what I said."
"Do you mean to imply?" asked Mr. Untermyer.
"Yes I do," answered the witness. Mrs. Stokes shaking with sobs shouted "that's a lie and he knows it. Make him take that back. He will take that back or I'll kill him."

BOYS OUT OF FASHION IN WALL STREET

Robbery of Youths Carrying Millions Becomes Uncommon

New York, Oct. 10.-Stories of the theft of stocks and bonds by immature youths, which a few years ago rivaled for frontpage positions in the daily newspapers, appear only infrequently now.

The answer is found in the almost universal absence of boys and young men in the roles of runners and messengers for the investment houses of lower Broadway, Wall and Broad Streets. The small satchels and portfolios containing valuable securities which constantly are being exchanged between investors and houses no longer are entrusted to heedless boys. Instead husky men, the majority veterans of the New York police and fire department, have been employed as messengers.

A canvass of financial institutions in New York discloses that nearly 1,000 former policemen and firemen now are on the payroll of these houses. Many of them have been retired on pensions by the municipal departments.
Before the war great care was exercised in the employment of youngsters. Such employees usually were a part of every fare.
"One of the most serious problems of the day is that of municipal, state

TAXES CAUSE HIGH STREET CAR FARES

Workman Pays Indirect Tax of About $4 to Street Railway Companies

Atlantic City, Oct. 10.-Municipal, state and federal officials were vigorously assailed for their extravagance in a special tax report made today to the American Electric Railway Convention here. William H. Malthe, of Baltimore, is chairman of the committee making it.
The report declared that owing to governmental extravagance, in part, every workman in the United States is paying an average tax of $4 a year which is hidden in his fare. This is about two-thirds of a cent out of every fare.

and federal extravagance," the report said. The check upon public extravagance is to be found only in a demand on the part of the public for economy, and one of the first and most important steps in the development of this public demand is the elimination of indirect taxation. Approximately 10 per cent of the gross receipts of the street car companies of the United States is devoted to some form of public burden. The average fare at the present time is 6.92 cents, an average of nearly two-thirds of a cent out of every street car fare collected in the United States is an indirect tax upon the street car users for the benefit of the general public.

Among the "obsoletes" taxes pointed out by the committee is one for paying between car trucks which had its inception in horse car days when the animals hoofs destroyed cedar block pavements between the rails.
Car riders do not realize, the report declared, that state and federal bodies which fix the car fares of the country, figure all of these taxes in when arriving at a fair fare.

LEAGUERS IN COUNTY CALL FOR NEW DEAL

DELEGATES NAMED

Nonpartisans of Burleigh county held a convention late yesterday in the court house to name delegates to the state convention. The convention was not necessary under the call of Chairman Church but it was decided to hold the gathering. H. W. Voight, county chairman, presided, and C. G. Boies was secretary pro tem. Delegates named were F. J. Argast, C. F. Lindsey, H. A. Thomas, James Curran, Aldrich Ward, S. S. McDonald and A. McCoy.

Resolutions were adopted identical with resolutions previously adopted in Griggs county, which called for a convention next February at which time an organization would be formed of "all progressive minded people," with branches from the state committee down to precincts. One delegate said this might be accomplished by a reorganization of the Nonpartisan League or by the formation of a new organization. The resolutions said:

WHEREAS, there is greater need today than ever before for the influence of right against might, privilege and greed in our economic and political life, and greater need for the people to stand as one against interests which stand in the way of accomplishment of those results which would more nearly give to all those rights and privileges which it was intended they should enjoy; and

WHEREAS, there is greater opportunity today than ever before for the people to accomplish results, through continued political action if they will but stand united and fight as one, there having come a very noticeable change in attitude on the part of hundreds and thousands of men and women who of late years have oppressed their own best interests as involved in a progressive political program, a change such as demands or will demand affiliation with some forward looking political and economic organization, an organization that would serve as a mighty protest against the present general trend of government and the growing power of those privileged through government; and

WHEREAS, though the Nonpartisan League, in spite of its errors, some of omission and some of commission, has been a powerful influence for good in North Dakota and in the Northwest in general, it appears that there is some reason to believe that possibly the Nonpartisan League, as such, can not function to the best advantage at this time for the reason that there are many progressive minds in North Dakota which have become prejudiced, not entirely without cause, against the organization and its very name to that degree which makes it appear seemingly evident that there is need for a reorganization or organization in which all progressives, all believers of fair political and economic play, may have a hand as builders from the ground up and in which they may affiliate without suffering humiliation." Continuing it urged that the convention today "Pave the way to the holding of such a state convention as will unite all the progressive factions within the state by inviting all such factions to work with us in building and maintaining such a political and economic organization in North Dakota as can and will face with clean hands and with a spirit of unselfishness the never yielding reactionary elements which refuse to curb the inroads being made upon the people by selfishness, privilege and greed and which seek to keep North Dakota in bondage."

Be it further resolved that, since the time of our next regular convention is February, 1924, we now establish that such a convention of delegates to a state convention as has been suggested in the foregoing paragraph of this resolution, be held in February and that this convention shall be open to ALL WHO OPPOSE THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION OF STATE AFFAIRS, that representation at the state convention shall be through the election of delegates, one from each precinct within each county to a county convention, the county convention to elect to the state convention one delegate for each 250 votes cast in that county for Lynn J. TAXES CAUSE HIGH STREET CAR FARES

Atlantic City, Oct. 10.—Municipal, state and federal officials were vigorously assailed for their extravagance in a special tax report made today to the American Electric Railway Convention here. William H. Mulhise, of Baltimore, is chairman of the committee.

The report declared that owing to governmental extravagance, in part, every workman in the United States is paying an average tax of $4 a year which is hidden in his car fare. This is about two-thirds of a cent out of every fare.

"One of the most serious problems of the day is that of municipal, state and federal extravagance," the report said. The check upon public extravagance is to be found only in a demand on the part of the public for economy, and one of the first and most important steps in the elimination of indirect taxation. Approximately 10 per cent of the gross receipts of the street car companies of the United States is devoted to some form of public burden. The average fare at the present time is 6.32 cents so an average of nearly two-thirds of a cent out of every street car fare collected in the United States is an indirect tax upon the street car users for the benefit of the general public.

"The average workman riding to and from his work 300 days in the year pays in this one item an indirect tax of approximately $4.

"If this indirect tax and other numerous indirect taxes which he pays could be bundled together with the relatively small direct tax which he is called upon to meet, labeled, and known to him as a tax, we would find a pressure for public economy making itself evident at the polls in unmistakable fashion.

Among the "obsolete" taxes pointed out by the committee is one for paving between car tracks which has its inception in horse car days when the animals' hoofs destroyed cedar block pavements between the rails.

Car riders do not realize, the report declared, that state and federal bodies which fix the car fares of the country, figure all of these taxes in when arriving at a fair fare.

LLOYD GEORGE KEEPS PROGRAM

Toronto, Oct. 10.—David Lloyd George carried out his morning's program today, including two brief speeches although he was hoarse. When he arrived from Ottawa it was at first thought he would not be able to carry out the program.

Throughout the morning he preserved his voice declaring he would need it in the afternoon.

SENSATIONS MARK STOKES DIVORCE CASE

New York, Oct. 10.—The trial of the divorce of W. E. Stokes, wealthy hotel owner against his wife, Mrs. Helen Stokes, today was marked by one of the most dramatic scenes ever seen in the supreme court when following an implied grave accusation on the part of a witness Mrs. Stokes arose sobbing and shouted a denial while her husband respectively began to cry.

On cross-examination by Samuel Untermyer, chief defense counsel, Elmer Henshaw, former chauffeur, for Mrs. Stokes said "I was very friendly with Mrs. Stokes. I mean just what I said."

"Do you mean to imply—?" asked Mr. Untermyer.

"Yes I do," answered the witness. Mrs. Stokes, shaking with sobs shouted "that's a lie and he knows it. Make him take that back. He will take that back or I'll kill him."

Teachers Honored With Reception By Monday Club

Members of the Monday club and their husbands were hostesses and hosts to the teachers of the city schools yesterday evening at a reception which they held in the Parish house of St. George's Episcopal church beginning at 8:30 o'clock. The hall was decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers and autumn colors. Mrs. F. A. Lahr presided at the tea table. During the evening, Madam Hermann Schaeffer and Miss Carroll McClure sang several beautiful solos. Mrs. M. W. Ryan played the accompaniment for Miss McClure.

A feature of the evening's entertainment consisted of an old-fashioned spelling match, in which Miss Mary Huber and Mrs. W. S. Casselman captained the teams and Mrs. G. F. Dullman acted as instructor. Miss Helen Collins, instructor in French at the high school, proved herself the winner from among the 70 guests.

Glee Clubs Prove Popular with High School Students

Sixty-nine of the high school students have joined the boys and girls' glee clubs which have been organized this semester. Miss Elizabeth Jones directs the boys' work. She has a class of 22 while Miss Cecile Baldwin has charge of the girls' glee club which has a membership of 47.

Much enthusiasm has already been aroused and the students show by their regular attendance and attention that it is one of the popular high school activities, according to those in charge. Membership of the boys and girls glee clubs follow:

Boys: Mabel Asberg, Marian Ackerman, Ruby Aplan, Flo Anderson, Muriel Benson, Marvel Birdzell, Emma Bougeois, Edna Boss, Ellen Coghlan, Clara Cordon, Elizabeth Craven, Maxine Erstrom, Lillie Fosberg, Irene Giovannoni, Edna Hall, Ellen Hall, Winifred Jacobson, Anna Hultberg, Evelyn Jacobson, Anna Katz, Alice Larson, Thelma Livdahl, Ethel Mandigo, Margaret McAllister, Catherine McLean, Myrtle Miller, Catherine Moynier, Molly Parke, Margaret Reynolds, Ruth Rubin, Elizabeth Russ, Margaret Schroeder, Esther Schulz, Ostrad Simonson, Edna Steding, Lily Sterling, Lily Sterling, Era Bell Thompson, Marie Tolstson, Winnifred Trousedale, Velma Whiteaker, Mary Jane Whittey, Isabelle Zeamer, Emma Zvorist, Anna Van Vleet, Jesse Scroggins, Ronald McIntyre, Richard Day, John Garske, Bill Byrne, Selmer Waage, Walter LeRoy, Earl Benser, George Owens, Herbert O'Hare, Stanley Reddon, Willis Shepard, Robert Nussie, Donald Erickson, Joseph Glaser, Frank Robidow, Earl Finlayson, John Wilson, Everett O'Neill, Jack Dingle, Reinhold Delzer, Fredrick Wanner.

FIRE LOSSES DISCUSSED BY GOV. NESTOS

Bismarck Rotarians Observe Fire Prevention Week at Regular Luncheon

Appalling losses in America through waste by fire were emphasized in a stirring appeal for fire prevention by Governor R. A. Nestos before the Bismarck Rotary club at the McKenzie hotel last noon.

"President Coolidge," said Gov. Nestos, "fixed yesterday as national fire prevention day. It was the anniversary of the great Chicago fire. In this state I fixed by proclamation an entire week in which to consider ways and means to cut down the appalling loss through fire."

"There are about 22 causes of fire and out of this number 12 are absolutely preventable and of the remaining 10 causes most of them by the exercise of precaution can be prevented. During the last year the property loss in the United States from fire reached the staggering figure of $521,000,000. Just consider what this would mean if such an additional sum were available for items of education, relief work, support of the navy. In addition there were 15,000 deaths from fire and 17,000 persons were crippled for life. It means that there is a fire every minute of the day and that every four minutes a home is wiped out by this fire menace. When you consider that 480,000 matches are lighted every minute in America the chances of fire are great. Special precaution must be taken to prevent fires in view of this fact."

"The fire loss per capita in 1912 was $2.16 and it has increased in the last ten years until in 1922 it was $4.75, a 120 per cent increase. In Great Britain the per capita loss in 1922 was only 72 cents. There is no reason why this nation which prides itself upon its efficiency cannot duplicate what Great Britain has done in eliminating fire losses."

L. H. Richmond, introduced the program committee of the October program committee introduced Governor Nestos. P. E. Byrne, chairman of the Association of Commerce fire prevention week committee was present as a guest and told of the plans to survey the city from a fire hazzard standpoint. A campaign is being conducted in the city schools.

A. F. Bradley was song leader for the day. Henry Halverson and George Humphreys gave a duet appropriate to the fall season.

One of the interesting features of the program were reports given by three boys who attended the Citizens Military Training camp at Fort Snelling. Archie McGray told the recreation features of the camp. John Russ told of athletics and the fine showing made by the North Dakota boys. Jess Scroggins described the routine drill and told of the excellent training and what benefits could be gained by attendance at the camp. In answer to questions from Dr. Quinn the boys expressed themselves pleased at the summer's outing and anxious to return next year.

Visitors for the day were: Roy Baird, Dickinson; Burbank Lewis, formerly of Bismarck, now of Los Angeles; E. B. Valeau, O. R. Woolrich, Minneapolis; P. E. Byrne, Archie McGray, Jess Scroggins and John Russ.

Mrs. E. H. Hughes, chairman for Navy Day for North Dakota, asked the Rotary club to celebrate Navy Day, which has been set for Saturday, Oct. 27. Henry Duemeland, read a communication from her emphasizing the significance of the day.

Strict Economy
"At all times the City Commission, and City Committee in consultation with these men have kept in mind strict economy as well as a first class plant, which will supply ample water of the right quality at all times."

In addition to the above experts, previously noted, the City Engineer has employed an expert designing engineer in the person of Mr. Thorne Dickinson. Mr. Dickinson has been devoting all of his time to the details of the water for some time past. He is seeing that every place of steel is in its proper place. That it is of proper size, quality and weight. That every yard of concrete is properly mixed and placed. That the sand and gravel is all washed before being unloaded. That the required amount of the highest grade of cement is used. That the waterproofing material is of the right quality and rightly used. He has as his assistant Mr. Lorenzo Bell, who has had years of experience as a steel and concrete inspector for the Highway Commission. Not a yard of concrete is poured or a foot of steel placed without the approval of these men.

Inspector Chasen
"Mr. Atkinson has employed Mr. George Doorley to inspect the laying of the pipe underground. Mr. Doorley has spent his entire life in this work. He inspects every piece of pipe as it is unloaded from the cars. He examines it again just before lowering it into the trench. He sees that the joints are properly caulked with lead and lute. He sees that the hydrants are in good condition and properly set in. In addition to all this Mr. Doorley supplies a pressure of 150 pounds to the square inch to see that there are no leaks. All this before he allows the ditches to be filled with earth.

"All of this expense is paid for from the amount allowed the City Engineer as his compensation. In addition to this all supplies, rodmens, assistants etc. are paid for in the same manner."

Everyone Should Vote.
"In order that this work, which has now progressed so far be completed, it is absolutely necessary that you vote 'Yes' on both questions in the bond election. If you fail to do this the hands of the City Commission will be tied. The City Commission has proceeded with great care at all times in matters connected with the building of the plant. They have kept in mind the keeping down of expense, and are trying to give to the City the kind of a water system Bismarck deserves. We ask that you assist us to this end. It is to the best interests of us all. A big vote at this time will be of great assistance to the Commission."

Mr. Church said that Senator Magnus Johnson of Minnesota three weeks ago promised he would endeavor to get here for the convention, but he had not put in appearance at noon.

Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery

An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. M. McCreary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from Piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scissors, "hot" iron, electricity or any other cutting or burning method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. The method has been a success for twenty-four years and in more than eight thousand cases. The book is sent postpaid free to persons afflicted with piles or other rectal troubles who clip this item and mail it with name and address to Dr. McCreary, 2844 Parkview Sanitarium, Kansas City, Mo.

MISS DOWNEY, LIBRARIAN, QUITS PLACE

Accepts Position as Librarian of Denison University, Granville, Ohio

Miss Mary Elizabeth Downey, director of the North Dakota state library commission for the last two years, has resigned her position to accept a position as librarian of Denison University, Granville, Ohio. Her resignation is effective November 1.

"Having been invited by my alma mater, Denison university, to become librarian, I have decided to accept," Miss Downey said in a letter to the board of administration. "It is, therefore, with exceeding regret that I resign my position with the North Dakota state library commission, especially as the work has now developed to be of great interest to me."

"It is, however, a very great honor that has come to me in the above invitation and as they are about ready to develop the library on a large scale and desire my assistance in the reorganization and the erection of a building to cost from $300,000 to $400,000 and as it has been one of my great desires to see this library developed as a model university library in my library life, I must not resist the opportunity when it is offered."

"In presenting my resignation to take effect November 1, I want to express my enjoyment of the North Dakota work and my appreciation of the cooperation of the Board of Administration and others who have been interested in making it a success."

Miss Downey came to Bismarck from the Utah state library commission, and previously had held library positions of importance in other states.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c

INTEREST IN PREVENTION WEEK IS GOOD

State Fire Marshal Pleased with Attitude Being Manifest by Many People

Widespread interest in being manifested in Fire Prevention Week in North Dakota, H. L. Reade, state fire marshal, said today. Commercial bodies, the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions and other civic clubs are taking an active interest in promoting the education work being conducted, he said.

One of the best meetings was held in Minot, Mr. Reade said. The business district, all schools, churches and theaters were inspected, and sessions of the State Fire-Prevention Association held.

Mr. Reade and S. A. Olages, Commissioner of Insurance, Mayor Smart of Minot, and others addressed a banquet attended by 150 people in Minot.

North Dakota, Mr. Reade said, contributes an annual fire loss of over three and a half million dollars to the total annual fire loss of the country of $520,000,000.

Mr. Reade is in Valley City today to address the Kiwanis club. On 10-10-10

The Man Who Pays Promptly

AN APPRECIATION

The will to pay is hereditary, just as much as red hair or buck teeth. It is a common fallacy that a man pays his debts because he has money. This is not necessarily true. On the contrary, the matter of paying has only a remote relation to money.

On the one hand is your friend with abundance of money, who can not be calojed, threatened, beaten or gassed into paying the most ordinary debt.

On the other hand, the poor fellow without a visible dollar—you know him—who is Johnny on the invoice. Money has little to do with either case. It is the breed of the man.

The man who pays is the man who thinks in advance. He never flashes a roll; he does not drive a car and carry a mortgage at the same time; he does not hang up the butcher, or the grocer, for food that he can not afford to eat; he never lights the fire without wondering where the coal man gets off. He never throws the Bull, nor pitches the bluff, nor gives notes, nor writes checks dated tomorrow, but when the bills come in, he is there with the coin of the realm. God bless him.

Sometimes he may wonder if it is worth while. He does not see that he gets on any better than the fellow who skins as he goes. Still he goes on and on, pays and pays, simply because it is in the breed.

And after all, the World does think a lot of his breed. The man who pays is the bulwark of Society. He is the balance wheel of civilization. He is the mainspring of commerce. Business blesses him and he has honor among men for all time.

Like Looking at the Sun

Looking into one of the huge rotary kilns where the raw materials for cement are burned into clinker is just like looking at the noonday sun.

The terrific heat required makes a glare of light so intense that the glowing flame would temporarily blind you.

But borrow the workman's colored goggles to protect your eyes while you take another look into the kiln. Then you will see a tornado of powdered coal—or gas or spraying oil—bursting into a sheet of sun-white flame.

Into the other end of the kiln flow the powdered limestone and shale [clay]—the raw materials for cement.

As the slowly revolving kiln tumbles the materials about, they are subjected to gradually increasing heat. During their three-hour journey through this inferno, moisture and gases are first given off. Finally as the powdered materials reach the sunwhite flame, they half melt into glass-hard balls called "clinker." This clinker, an entirely new chemical compound, when finely powdered is portland cement.

Portland cement kilns consume great quantities of fuel—30 pounds of coal or its equivalent for each 94-pound sack of cement. For the whole cement making process the consumption of coal is approximately 50 pounds a sack—more than half a ton of coal to a ton of cement.
